The Characters . . .

The Student Body

The Time . . .

1977-1978

Volume 44

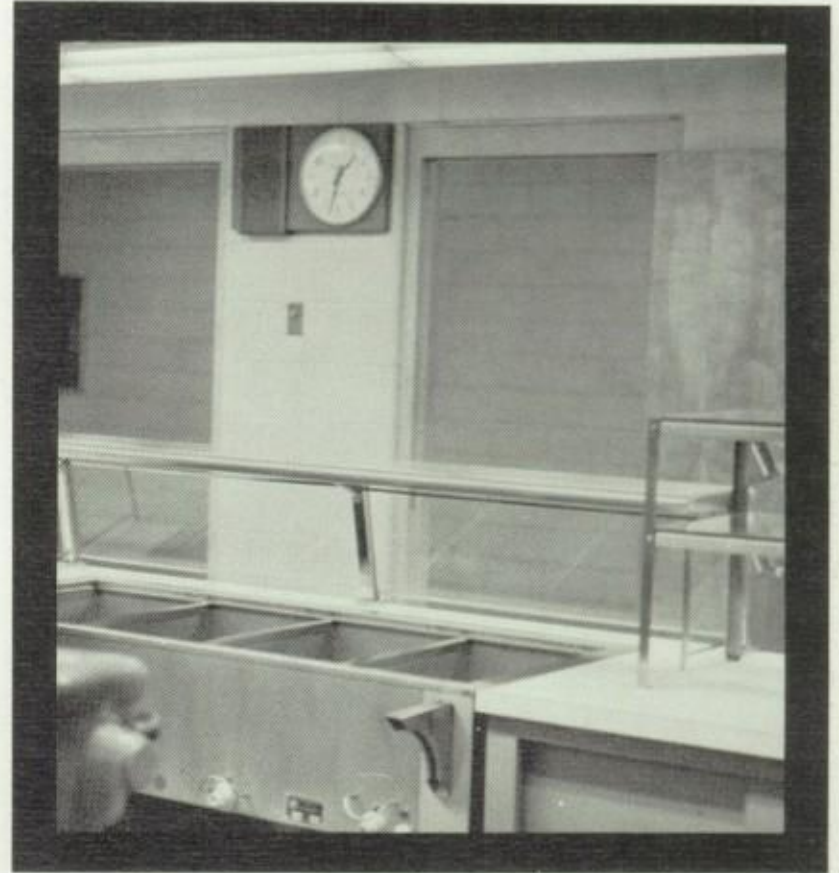

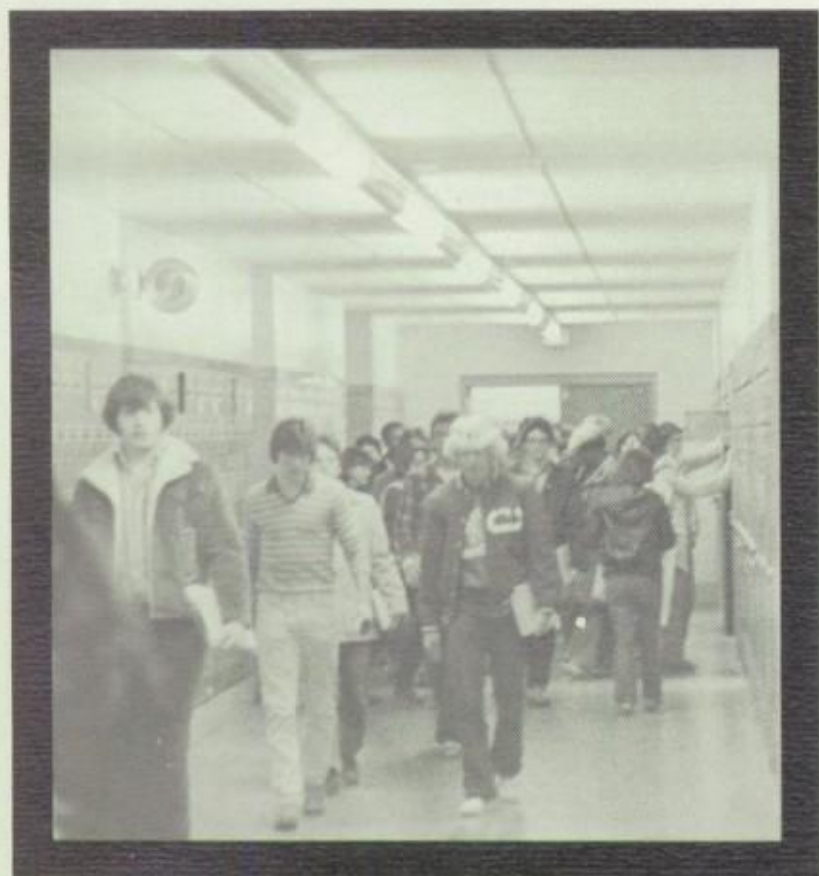

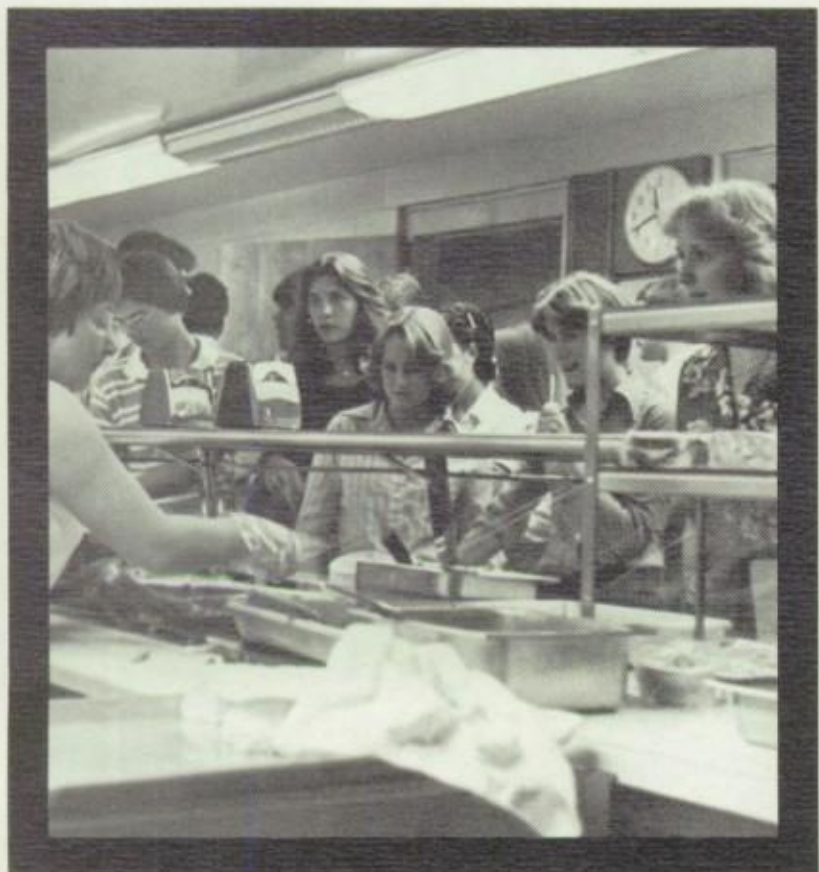

As the scene opens, we see an empty school whose classrooms, courtyard, lunchroom, and halls are patiently anticipating a change. Something is coming, something that will upset the peaceful atmosphere that has been a part of the campus since the warm weather came upon it two months before.

The Story Begins . . .

And Then It Happens . . .

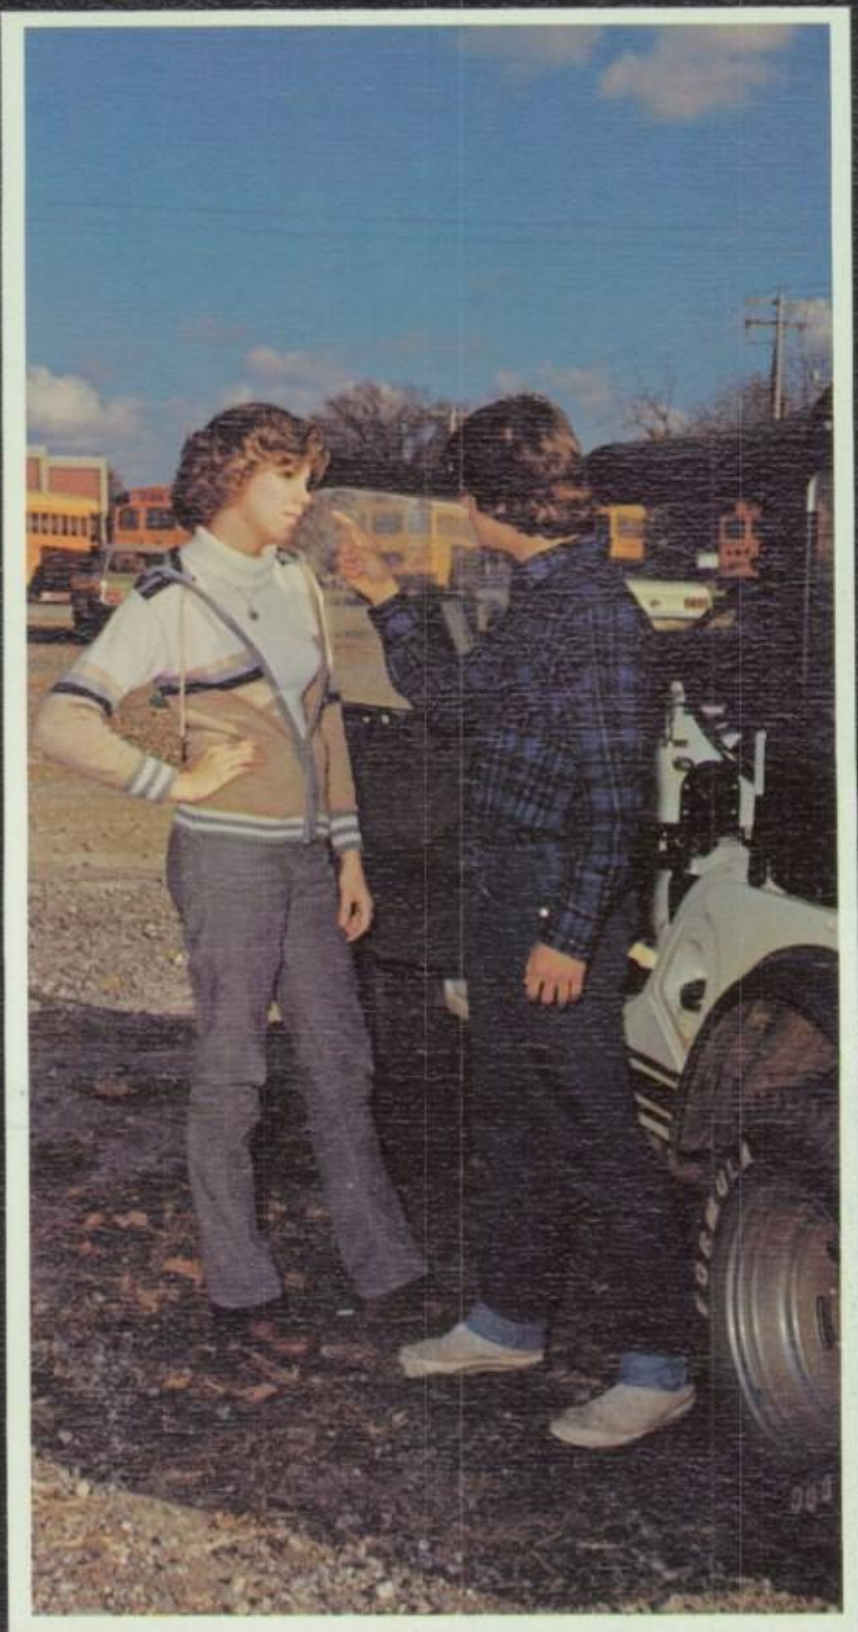

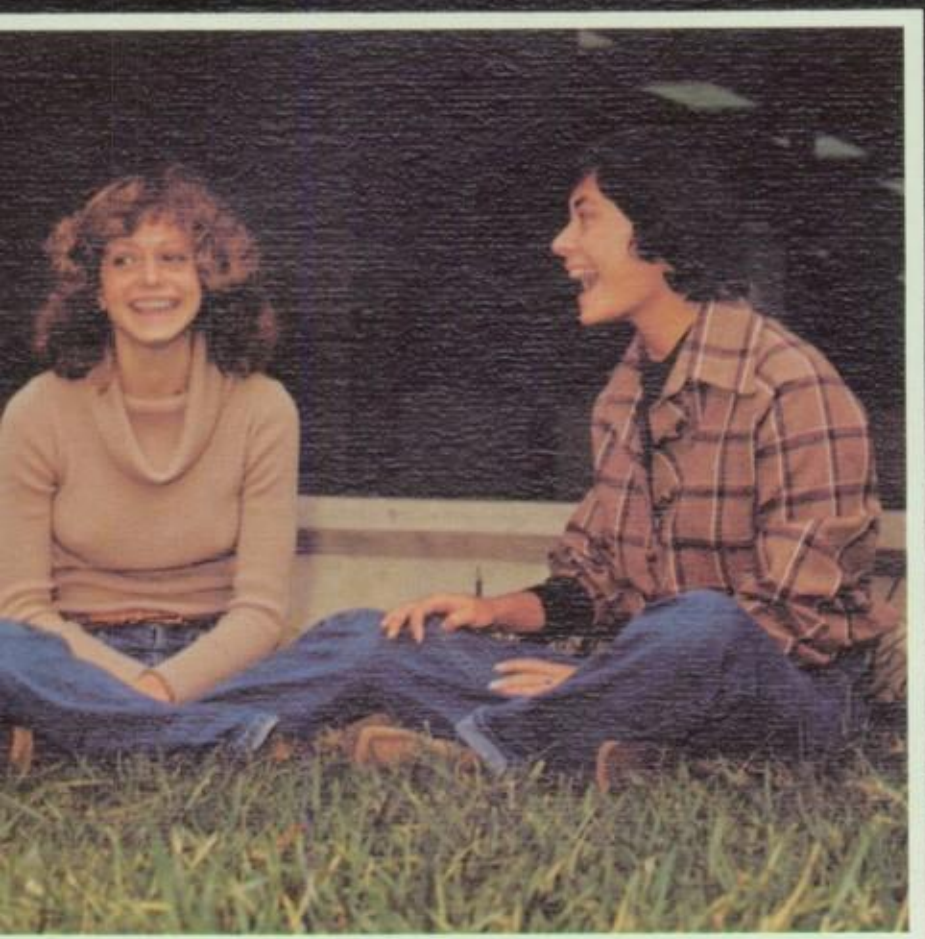

People, people, and more people suddenly rush in and quickly occupy the emptiness that the school had known only minutes before. No longer are the classrooms and halls deserted. The lunchroom and courtyard, once vacant and lifeless, are now alive with the constant flow of students and faculty. Our story has begun.

Loving and Laughing, Crying and Fighting.

As the plot begins to unfold, it becomes evident that unlike most stories, ours is one of many tones. A tone of tragedy and romance, of comedy and drama, and even of something as simple as joy itself. From the shedding of a tear to the laughter of two friends, various tones are expressed and intermingled to produce a story so unique that it can and never will be recaptured.

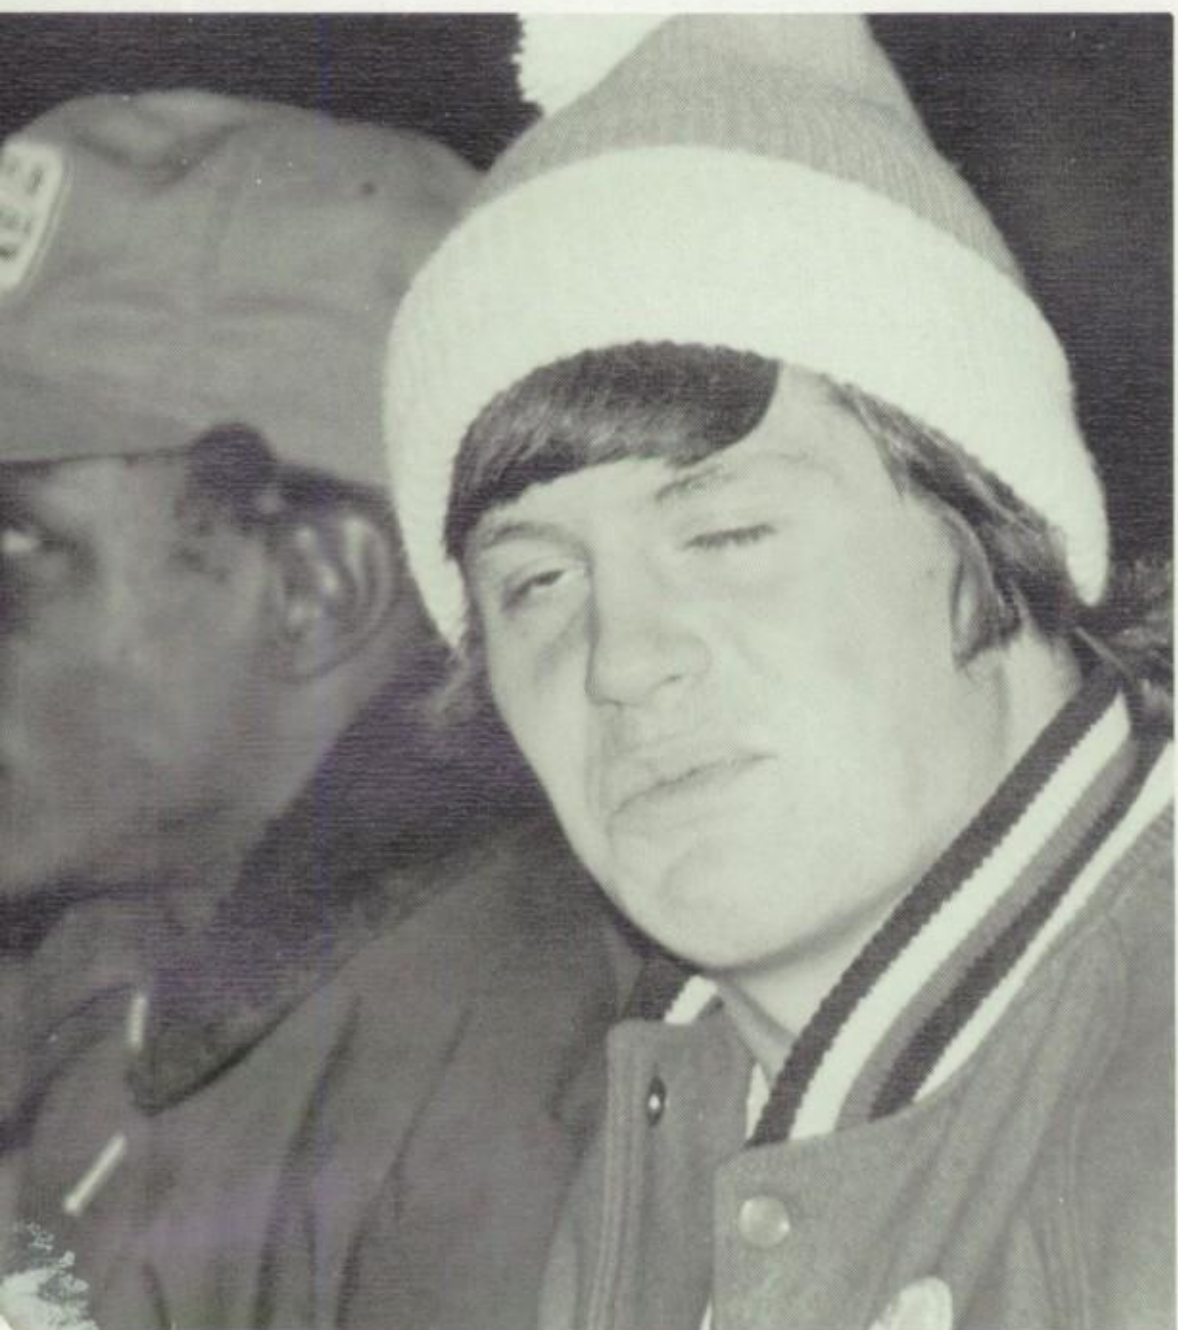

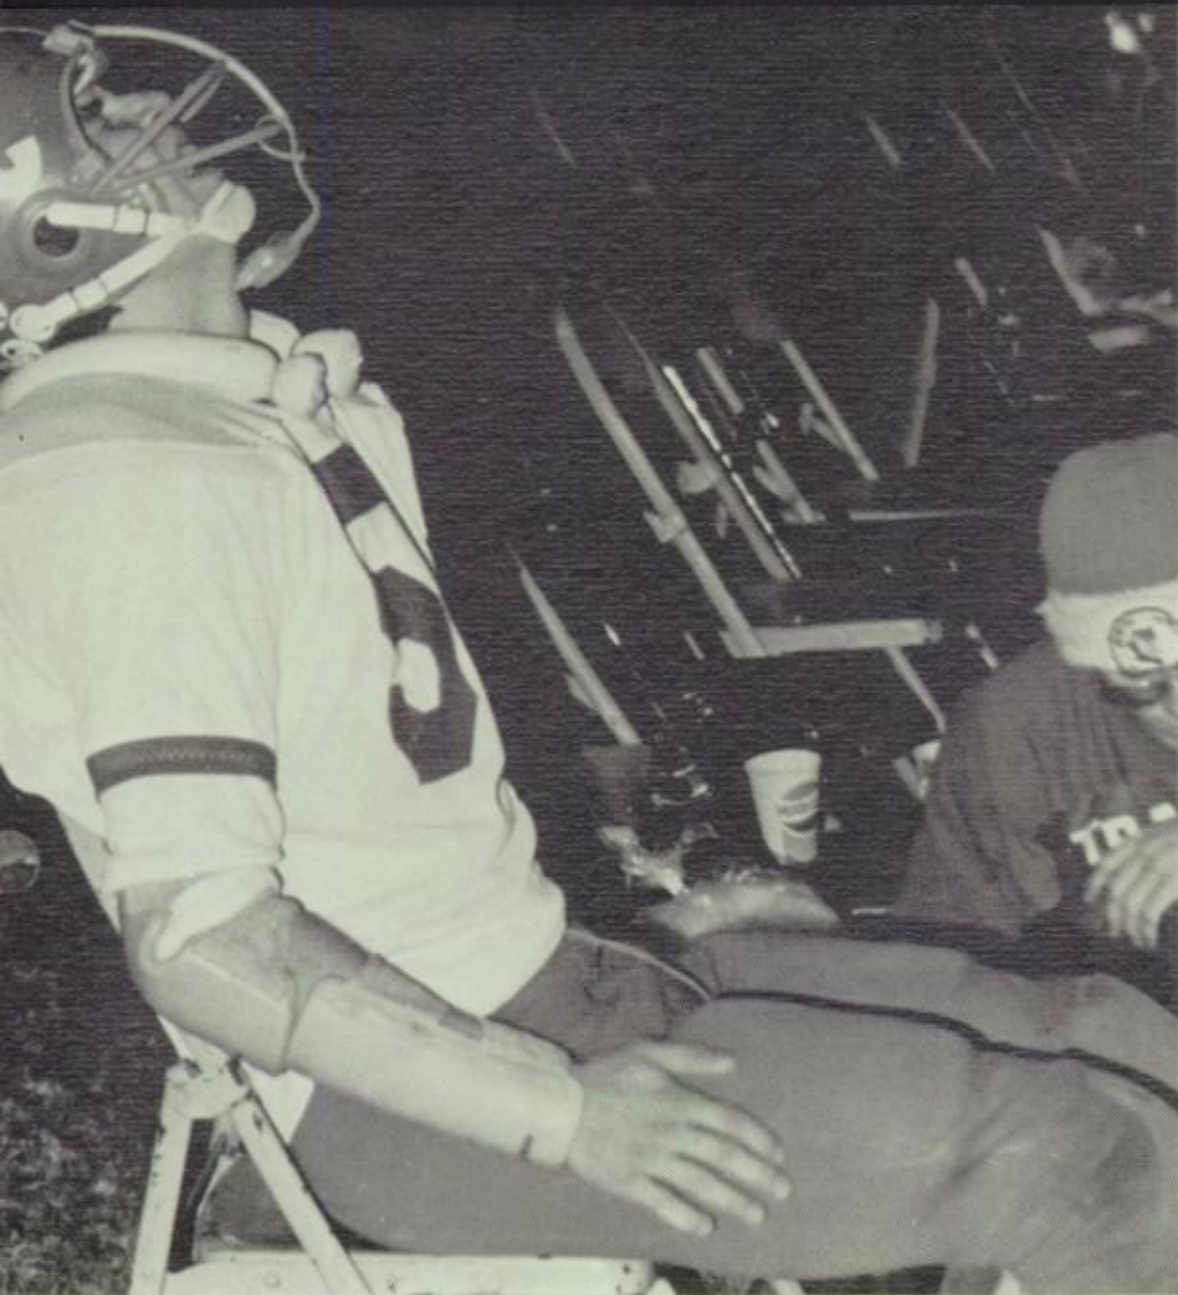

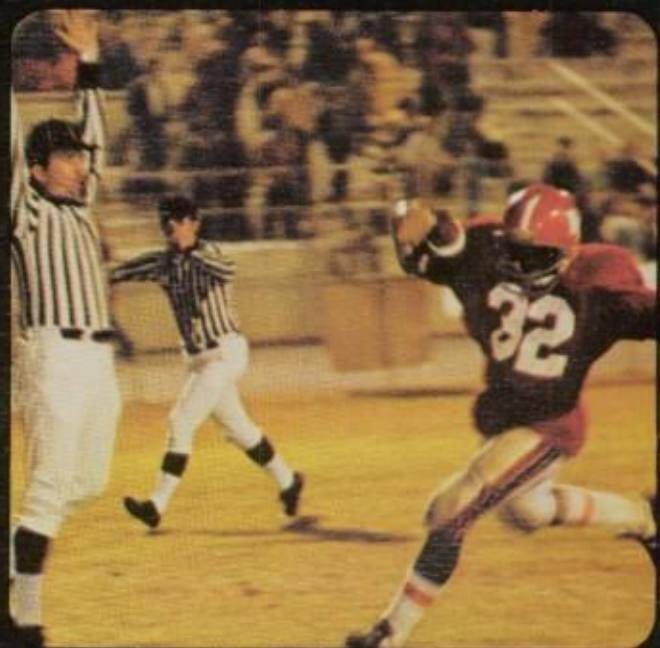

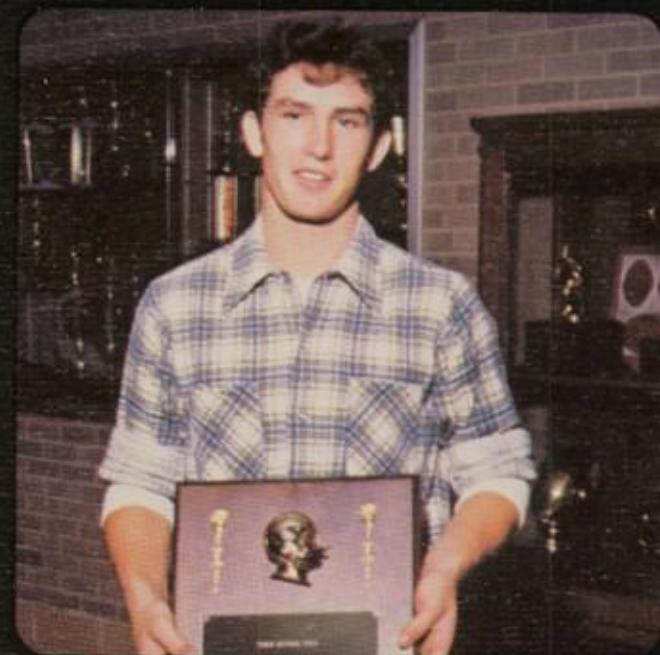

The Good, The Bad, And The Ugly Days

After the various tones have made their appearances and the action begins to culminate, it becomes evident that unlike fairy tales and Harlequin Romances, we, the characters of our story, do experience both good days and bad. We find that along with the day when the football team had that unforgettable victory or the day when we shared that very special moment with that very special person, there are the many other not-so-good days when we find it hard to even fake a smile. But words are not always necessary to describe events and express feelings such as these, for ...

Story

Lazy summer days. Vacationing fun in the sun. Partying during the week. It has all come to an end. But . . . all good things must come to an end. So you make up your mind that you're gonna have to ride with the tide and go with the flow. The flow of reality. School begins. You are faced with the first day: who's going to be in your classes, whether you get a good lunch period, and the joy of being with your friends.

Rituals

Routine . . . rituals. They start up again, forming after the first day of school. Awakening to the harmonious phonics of that stupid, nagging alarm clock, to the blasé classrooms themselves — they're all habits that must be acquired — routines. The jeep brigade, parked side by side. Lil' General in the morning. Talking with friends. These are the rituals that make school what it is.

A Friend is Forever

What is a friend? To you it may be a special someone to lean on when you experience the feeling that the beautiful world is not so beautiful after all. To another it may be a free ride or a companion at a game. Then there is the friend whom you have known quite a while. Also it may be someone who encourages you when everyone else has classified you as a failure. But no matter what the predicament is . . . a friend can always be found.

Just an Added Extra

Extra special events bring back fond memories. Memories of the Junior-Senior, assemblies with Rufus and guitar serenades, various pageants, including Miss NCHS. Kim Jones took the crown. And then the season for fall sports arises. Tennis, volleyball, and, of course, football. Excitement was at a peak with the city-wide pep rallies. The Team Before Self Award was presented to Tommy Smith during half-time of the West Iredell game. The fall sports celebrated the end of their seasons with a banquet at Catawba Country Club. The feature assembly was AFS, with some fancy guitar-picking by Reinaldo Garcia from Brazil, who received a standing ovation.

Have We Got The Spirit!

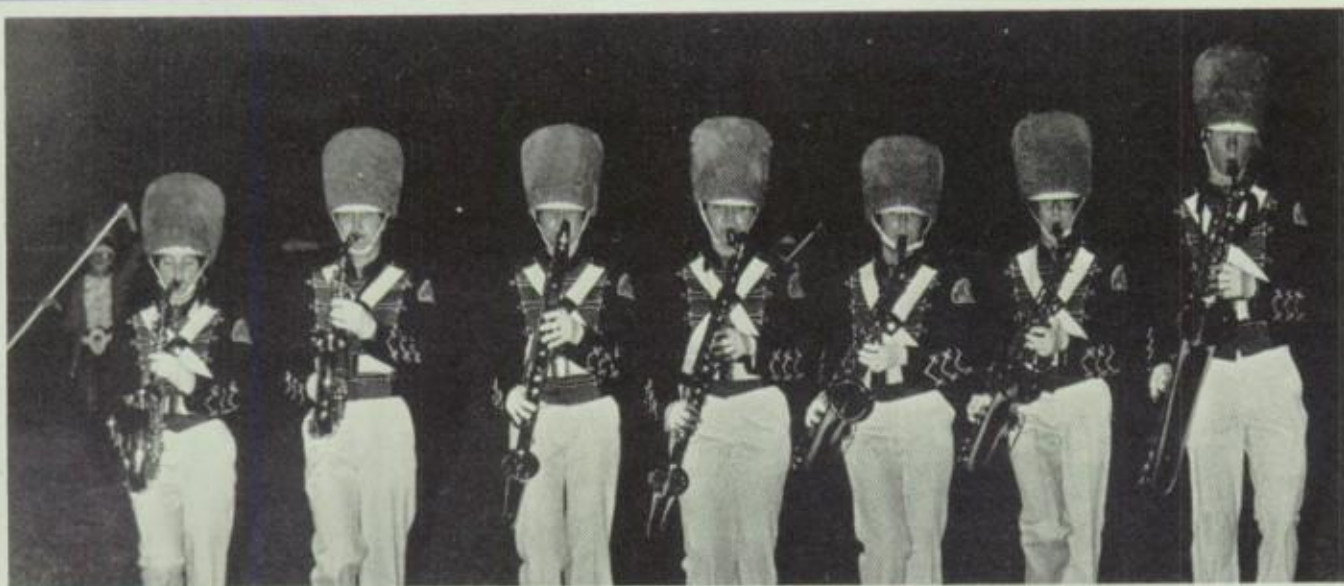

With the cheerleaders leading cheers, the students at NCHS had a way of expressing their enthusiasm and spirit through the pep rallies. Pride and respect were shown at this event, feelings which followed the team through every game no matter what the outcome might be. For the first time this year, the school sponsored a city-wide pep rally. This pep rally gave the players, parents, spectators, and other students of the Newton-Conover area the opportunity to participate in the process of encouraging the team on to victory. During the pep rally the band performed, players and their parents were recognized, and the cheerleaders led cheers. The influence of the pep rally contributed to a great victory over Shelby High, and memories that will never be forgotten.

Homecoming '77

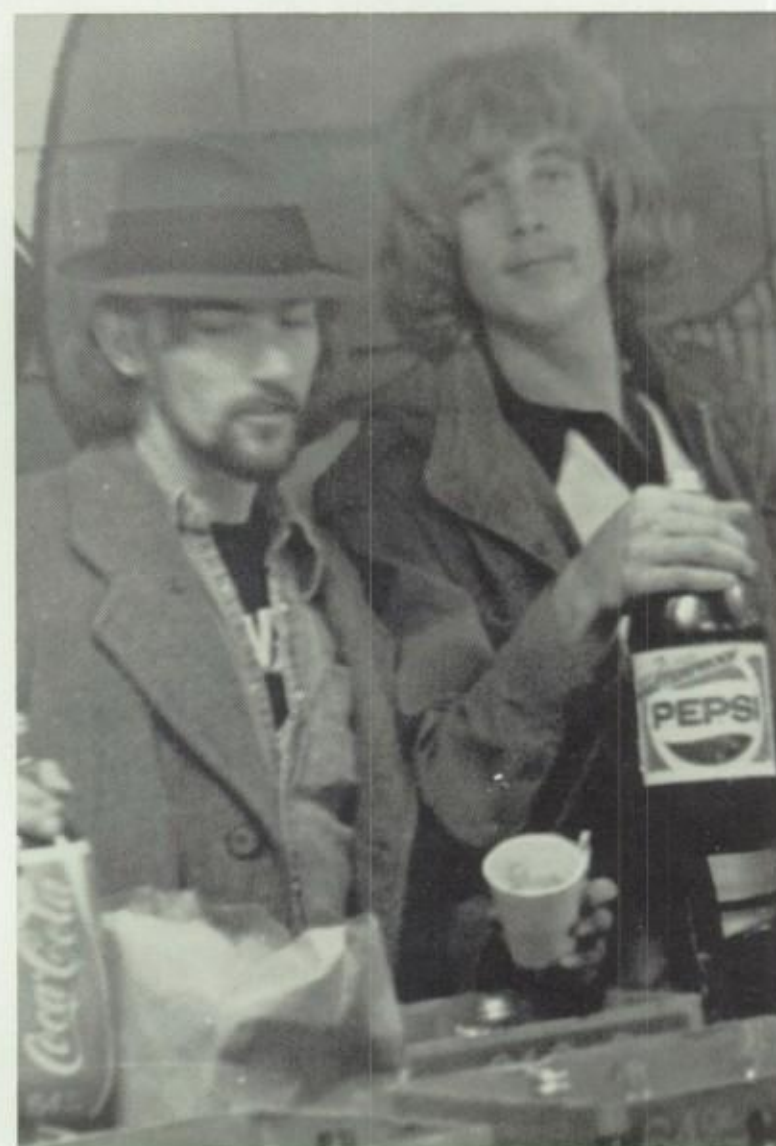

The classiest game of the season — on Homecoming night. This was the game everyone made a special effort to attend, especially the 1977 graduates. A tinge of anxiousness existed in the air when half time finally came. Melissa Hunsucker was crowned Homecoming Queen, Jean Kiser — first runner-up, and Beverly Reid — second runner-up. As the game neared its end, the Devils stood ready to chalk up another victory. Celebration had already begun in the gym, where the traditional Homecoming Dance was taking place. Here the summit of the season was reached, but with many a happy heart.

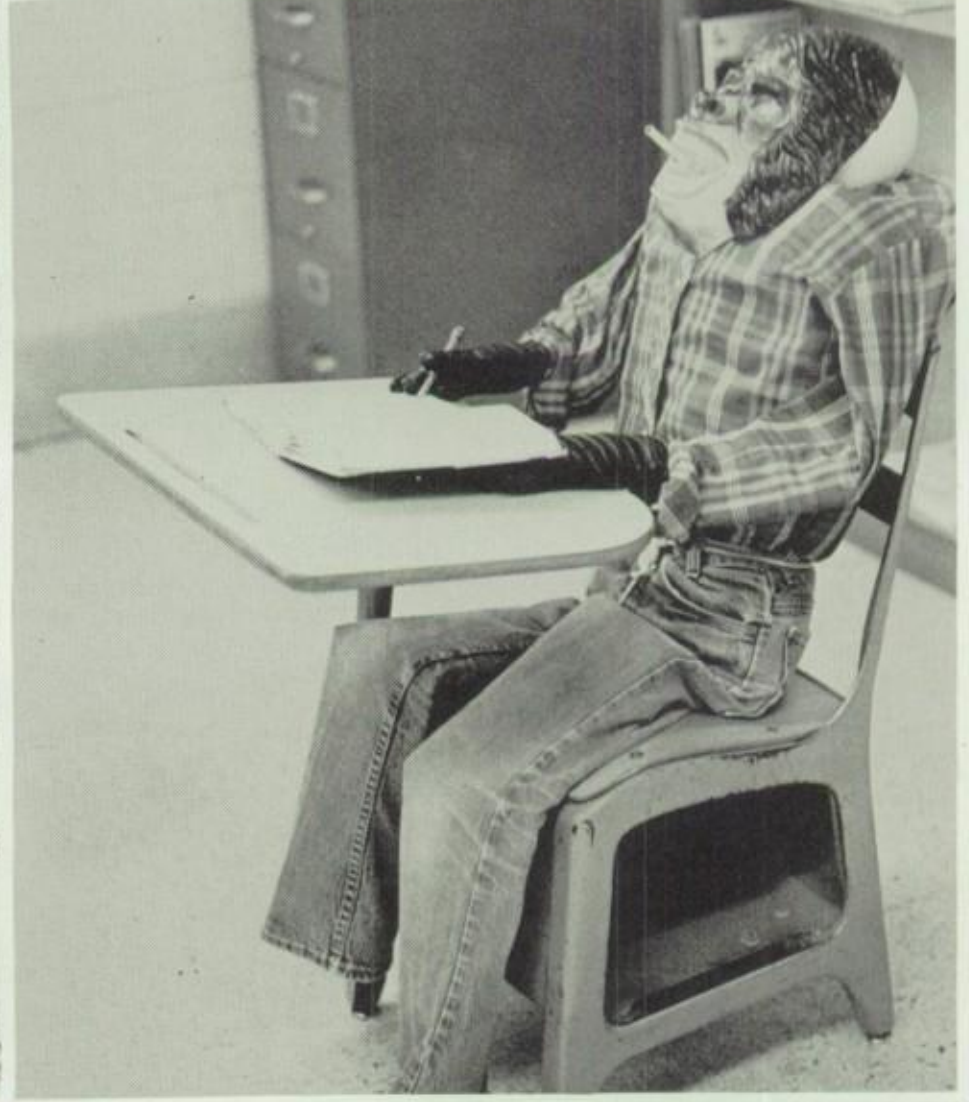

Christmassy Things

Ho ho ho! Yessir — it was that time of the year again. And it seemed like everybody had the spirit. Christmas trees went up everywhere — in the lunchroom, the office, Mrs. Jackson's room. A specially drawn tribute could be seen in the library — a scene of Christmastime. But there was more to the last day before vacation — the sixth period parties!! The seniors rambled amongst themselves in the student center. After the three o'clock bell rang, everybody trotted on home to get ready for the big dance at the Armory sponsored by the senior class. A joyous gift.

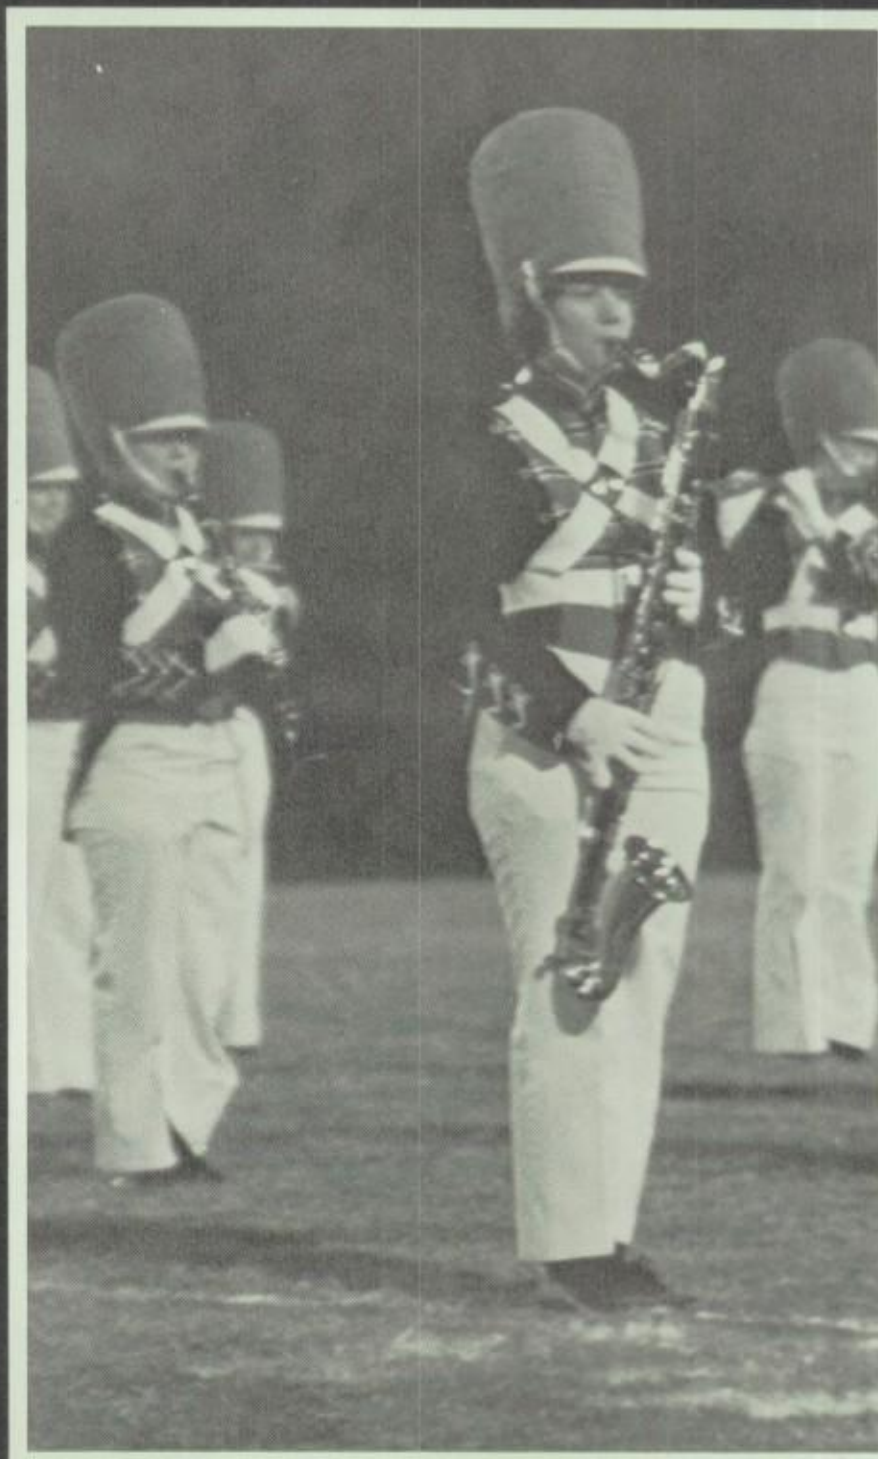

They Play the Songs That Make the People Smile

One of the most important facets at NCHS is the band. No matter what the occasion, they are always there to provide the music, to play the songs that make the people smile. Have you ever noticed the glowing faces of the fans after the half-time performance, proud, boastful cheers during a parade, or words of encouragement before a competition? These things along with others indicate the influence of the band. Despite the harsh, windy, and often unpleasant weather, the band always seems to perform at their best.

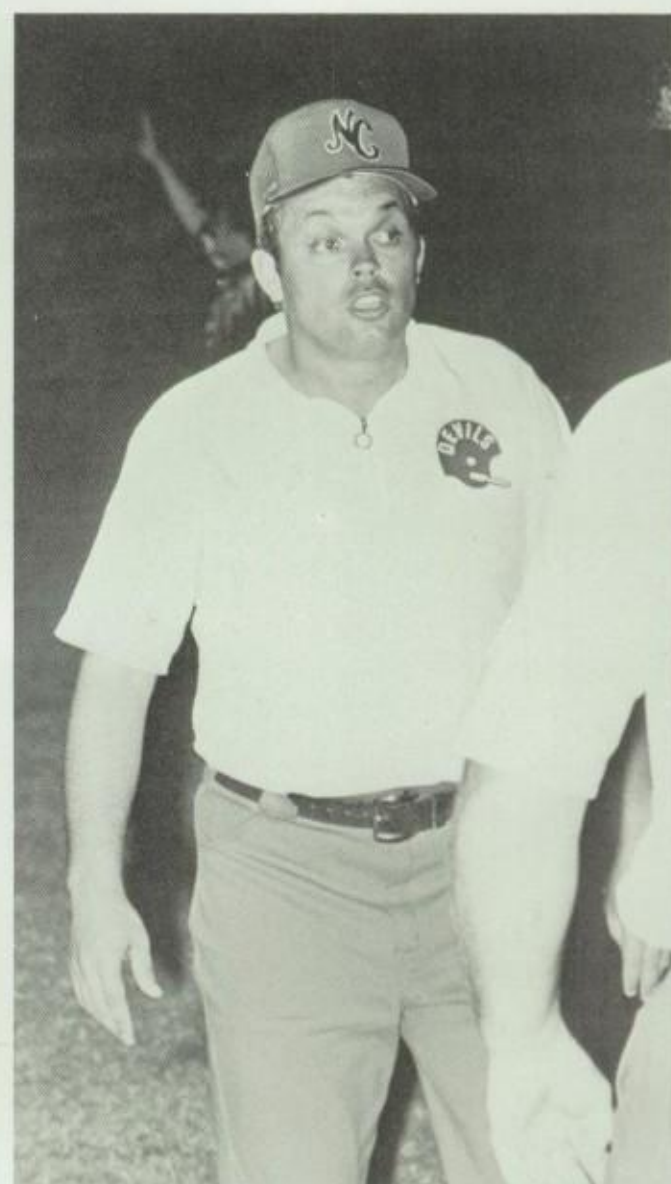

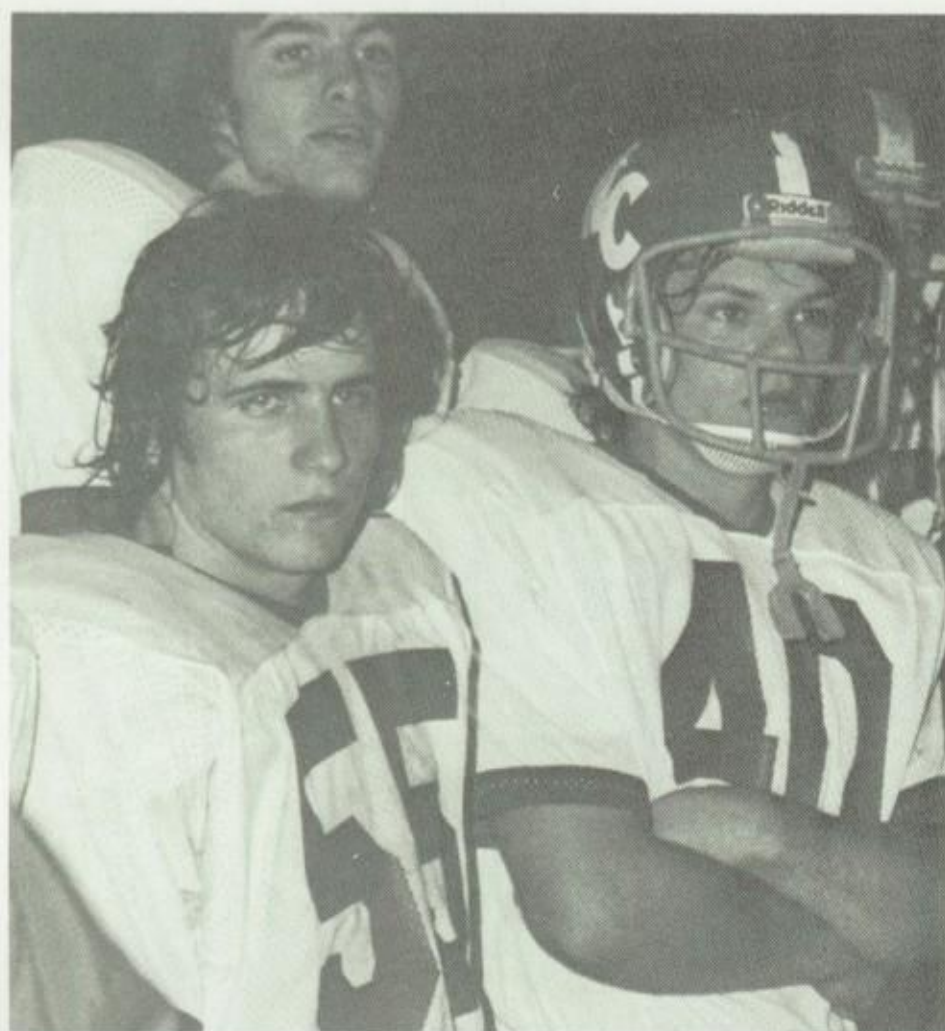

Voicing their moods through the songs that they sing, the choral department creates their own sounds of music. By doing so, they receive recognition and encouragement from everyone. Under the direction of Mrs. Martha Williams, they began with the production of Lil' Abner. This production, presented in June, received overwhelming praise and was a joyous success for the chorus. Later, along with the band, the chorus performed a concert for the student body. Major projects for the year included the annual Christmas Concert and the production of Oklahoma in the spring.

The beginning of school leads to the organization of clubs. These clubs give students the opportunity to participate in and enjoy extra activities. There is always something happening in every club. One club may rake leaves, another may dance for a basketball game, then another may broadcast a radio show; but whatever the situation may be, they all have something in common—memories. These activities create memories that will never be forgotten.

Something's Always Happening

Taking It Easy

Ah. You've finally got some time to yourself after a hard week at school. For some it's work time; but for most, the weekend means relaxation. Your trusty ten speed comes in handy for a bit of exercise. Then you wind down and get ready to party for the night. Pizza Hut after the games, a ride through Papa's, or maybe everybody's up in Hickory—My Place Too or the Nail. The same old stuff. It gets old. The good concerts never seem to be in Charlotte when you're bored. Oh yeah . . . there's still some hope. You completely forgot about the party in Conover, so you gulp up your pizza and you all head on up to the party. Everybody seems to have heard about it. Ah . . . the good life.

The suspense is increasing at a rate that you can't handle. You think the day will never arrive. The highlight of the year. The Junior-Senior Dance. You have heard comments about who the band is, but don't think it will materialize, and by the end of the week everybody is talking about EASTERN SEABOARD! The three o'clock bell rings, and you zoom to the florist to pick up the flowers. You get yourself ready, and you and your date are off. When you step out of the car, it hits you. It's here. The 1977 Junior-Senior-Stairway to Heaven. The sweet music puts you under a spell, and too soon you realize it's over. But you think twice since you can stay out late. It's not over yet. The Breakfast, . . . and more parties! What a night. One you'll never forget.

Honoraries

Honoraries

Thanks for the Memories

The dedication is that special part of the yearbook where we honor the person who has contributed so much to our learning experiences and who has influenced our lives in no small way. This year we recognize a lady who has been so much a part of education at Newton-Conover High School. As a classroom teacher for 37 years, she has touched the lives of so many people in our community and has offered classroom instruction in a highly professional manner. We honor her as a great teacher. Along with her duties as a teacher, she has been responsible for the publication of the yearbook for the past 17 years, offering guidance and instruction to her students in this difficult, often thankless task. We honor her as an advisor. Many teachers may deserve the dedication, but none more than she. We dedicate the 1978 Cardinal to Mrs. Bernice Cline.

The nominees this year for the Morehead Scholarship awards to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill were Cathye Baker, Craig Binkley, Karol Krueger, and Jackie Propst. Each nominee was interviewed by a county board who in turn, selected nominees to advance to the district competition. These selections were based on scholastic ability, character, and physical vigor. Jackie Propst represented Newton-Conover High School in the district competition.

Scholarships: Rewards Well Earned

Excellence should be and usually is rewarded in some manner. The National Merit Scholarship and the National Achievement Scholarship for Outstanding Negro Students are two scholarships that are awarded to students who prove their excellence on the PSAT/NMSQT tests. Karol Krueger is one of the fifteen hundred semifinalists still in competition for the National Merit Scholarship because of her high score on the 1977 PSAT/NMSQT test. If she fulfills a few additional requirements, she will qualify as a finalist and will compete for Merit Scholarships. Over ninety percent of the semifinalist are expected to attain finalist standing, so Karol has an excellent chance.

Cathye Baker is one of the approximately fifteen hundred Achievement Program semifinalists. She too must fulfill additional requirements to advance to finalist status and has an excellent chance of remaining in the competition. Cathye's 1977 PSAT/NMSQT test score was the basis of her consideration for the scholarship. This is a great honor for both of these girls.

Women Belong In The House ...

And In The Senate ...

Last summer Cathye Baker, Cindy Drum, and Barbara Haight attended Girl's State, held on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. The girls attended numerous lectures which placed emphasis on the necessity of women in the government. They participated in setting up a model government which included city and state officials. Elections were held, and the girls were given an opportunity to engage in political activities.

And In The Governor's Mansion

This past summer Karol Krueger attended Governor's School, a six week honor program held at Salem College in Winston-Salem. Four hundred juniors and seniors from North Carolina attended the program. Each person selected a specific area of study. Karol chose to study Concrete Poetry. Aside from the daily routine of classes, the students attended concerts, dances, movies, and recreational outings.

Although she found Governor's School to be a humbling experience, Karol felt that the friendships she made were the greatest reward of the six weeks.

BETA CLUB

Receiving membership into the Beta Club is one of the highest honors a student at NCHS can achieve. Selection is based on scholarship, leadership, and character. Beta Club members are available for tutoring those students who need additional instruction. A second project is the sale of programs at football games.

In early February, the ten highest ranking students in the junior class were chosen to serve as Junior Marshals on the basis of their academic excellence. These students ushered for Awards Day, the Baccalaureate Service, and the Commencement Exercises.

The A's Have It

ALL-STATE BAND

1st row: Bradley Reinhardt, Lynn Jones, Janet Prestwood, Terry Rowe. 2nd row: Shuford Abernethy, Doris Brugger, Mary Ann Brockhoff, Nancy Hendrix, Robbie Reitzel.

After many hours of tedious practice, nine outstanding band members were chosen for the All-State Band. Several hundred students attended the tryouts and were judged by high school and college band directors.

Practice did not end here, however, as the NCHS students continued their practices for the performance held at Shelby High School. Two bands, one consisting of ninth and tenth graders and one composed of senior highs, ended the event with a concert in the school auditorium.

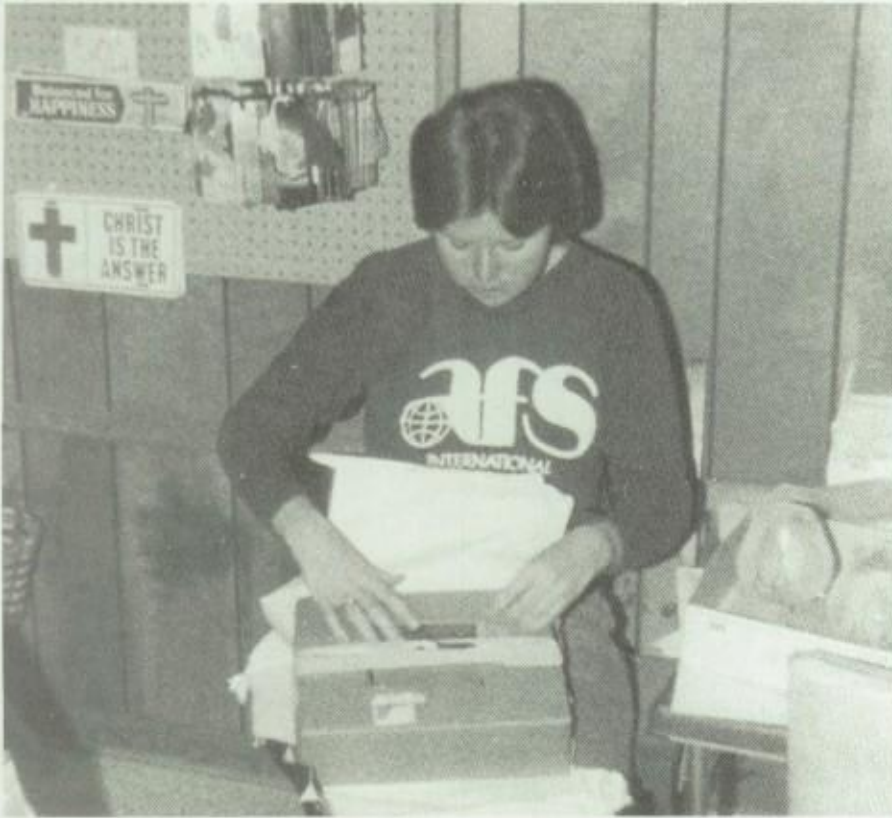

MARS HILL

Lee Ann Holsclaw, Michael Roberts, James Elliott, Michael Grant

This year N.C.H.S. had four outstanding vocalists to attend the Mars Hill Chorus Clinic. James Elliott, Michael Grant, Lee Ann Holsclaw, and Michael Roberts were selected to represent our school after auditioning at East Burke. For two days they practiced with other students from North Carolina. The finale of the event was a public performance on Sunday afternoon.

Across the Miles

"I spent 1977 as an exchange student to Australia. It's probably a year in my life that I'll never forget. There were so many new experiences for me and so many new people to meet.

One of the most interesting experiences I had in Australia was living on a 12,000 acre farm that had 6,000 sheep. I had never done anything like shearing sheep before, nor had I ever driven a combine or large tractor. After the experience on the farm, I'm really glad I was placed in a rural area.

The schools in Australia are so much different from ours. They are much more advanced than ours here in the U.S. Of course the country school atmosphere of Cummins Area School is totally different than the U.S., especially NCHS.

I gained much from my year in Australia. Meeting so many different people has definitely broadened my outlook on life. There are different cultures and different ways of life, but people are basically the same when you get to know them. I now have an even greater respect for other peoples and ways of life not only around the world, but within our own country as well. The ideas of increasing understanding between different peoples is a valuable one, and it has made a lifetime impression on me."

John Cilley

"Living in another country and becoming part of another family is an opportunity which few are able to experience. I was fortunate enough to have such an experience this summer. Although I could not stay in Mexico for as long as I would have liked, I stayed long enough to feel that I understood the people there and belonged. The city and state where I lived for three months is called Oaxaca, Oaxaca, and this place is one of many varieties, and many extremities. The rich and poor live side by side; the city contains as many communists as it has right wing party members. There are many idioms and many cultures, and the ancient buildings and cities stand near modern shopping centers. My family was Catholic and very close; they treated me as another daughter. I wish only that sometime I can go back and that others could be as fortunate as I in meeting people such as those I met and learning as much as I did in Oaxaca."

Jackie Propst

My AFS experience really began when I applied to go on the programme in February last year. Through all my many interviews I continually learnt such a great deal about myself and others. We were told before leaving South Africa that our AFS experience would be what we wanted it to be. I have found this statement to be very true, as the more I gave of myself the more I seemed to learn and experience. At the offset of my stay in America I would get very frustrated at times, but soon learnt that by being patient and understanding I become aware of the whole group of friends I had, and that we had so many new and wonderful things to share. I love Newton-Conover and am going to be very sad to leave as each person I have met has contributed in many ways to make my AFS experience so worthwhile. I do think AFS is a tremendous organization and succeeds in its aims at bringing about international brotherhood. I think I could possibly liken my experience to an elevator— it has had its “ups” and “downs” but it has been 99.9% up. Thank you for all helping me to make my experience such a great one— I know I couldn’t have done it alone!”

Reigning Royalty

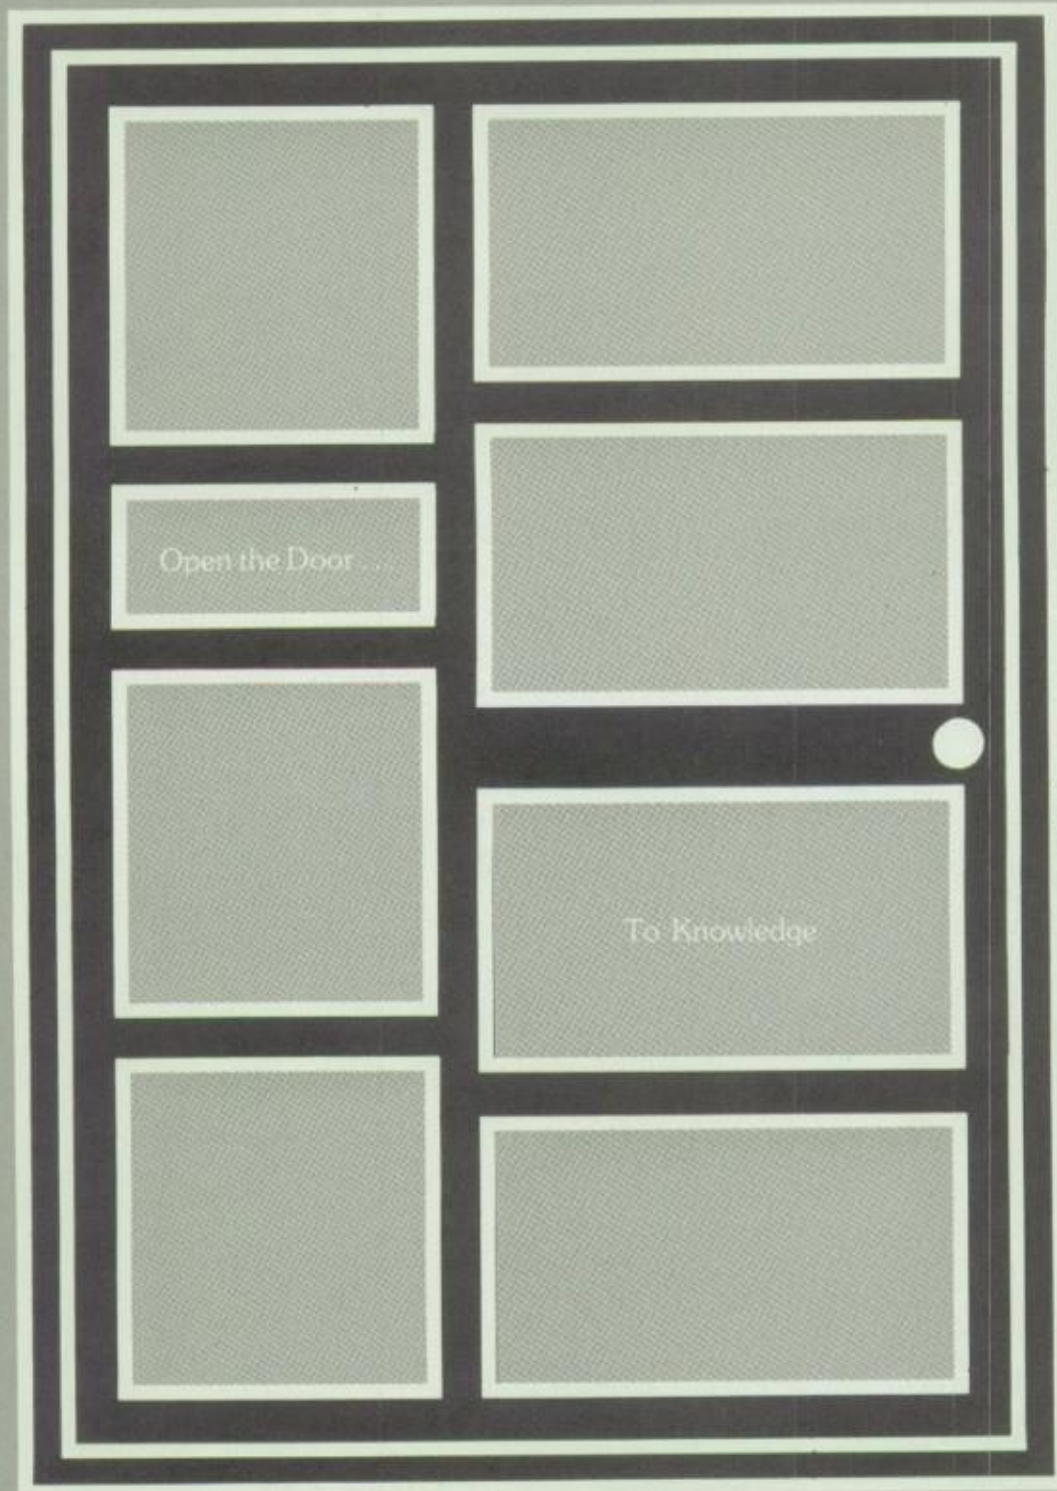

When anyone looks back on his high school years, there is usually one special moment that stands out above all of the rest. Maybe it is his first prom, going steady, or even graduation itself. But for five certain young ladies, it will most probably be that memorable night when they became queens. Last April, Sheila Britt experienced her special moment when she was crowned Band Queen during the final night of the Variety Show. Soon after, Kim Jones became Miss N.C.H.S. As soon as school reopened in the fall, Rhonda Randall was chosen Carousel Princess and Melissa Hunsucker became the reigning Homecoming Queen. A new addition to our list of queens, Chorus Queen, was crowned at the fall Chorus Concert. Susan Bollinger was the happy recipient. Yes, these were joyous moments for these girls, moments not easily forgotten.

Under the supervision of Sherrill Cranford, our administrative body is responsible for the efficiency and productivity of the Newton-Conover School System. Mrs. Caldwell works with the middle grade schools as a vocational coordinator, Mrs. Bock serves as General Supervisor of the Newton-Conover City Schools, and Mr. Burgin acts as long-range planner for vocational education. The Newton-Conover School Board is made up of community leaders who are willing to work toward the goal of better education for the students in the system.

Mr. Bobby Rowe

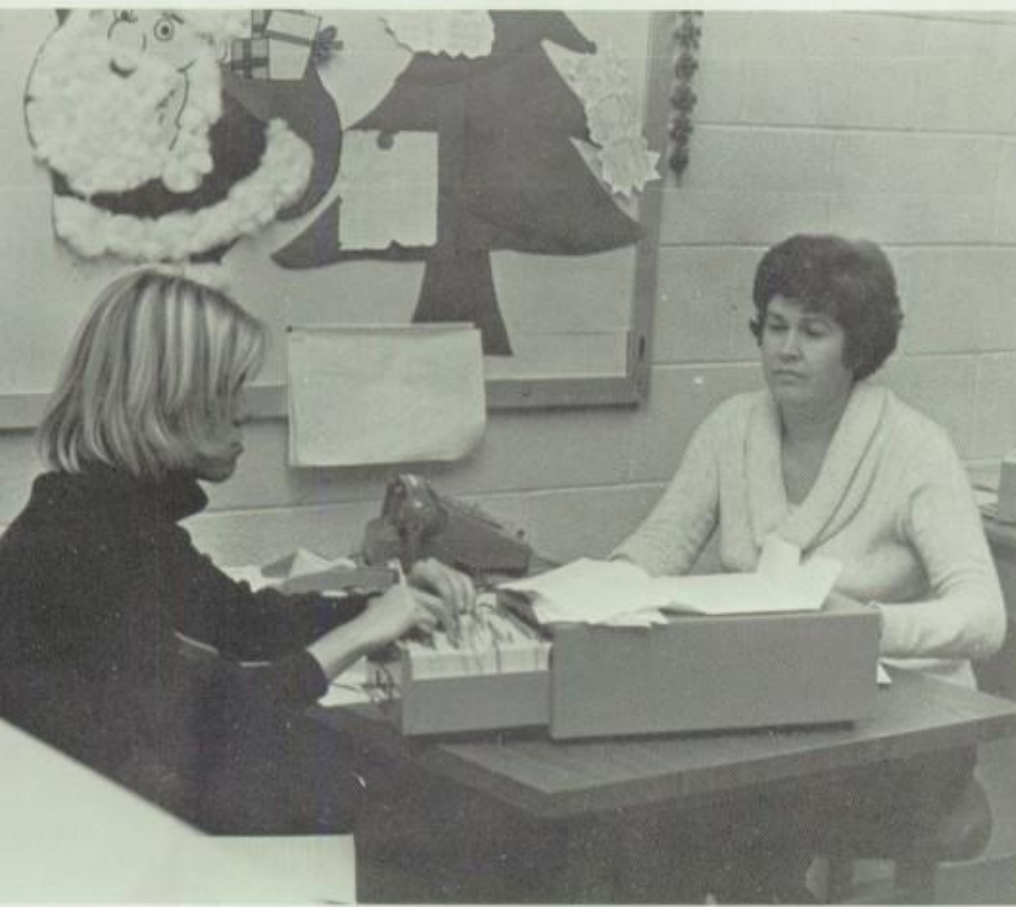

Devil Power

The management of our school is dependent upon our administrative body. Under the leadership of Mr. Ingle as head principal and Mr. Rowe and Mr. Simmons standing by his side as assistant principals, all affairs concerned with Newton-Conover High School are under control. These men are concerned with reinforcing the rules and regulations handed down to them from the main office, and we should congratulate them for upholding their responsibilities throughout the entire year.

Men alone, however, are not totally responsible for the efficiency in which the office is run. Mrs. Buchanan with her early morning announcements and Mrs. Reinhardt giving assistance wherever it is needed add the woman's touch that is necessary for smoothness and organization.

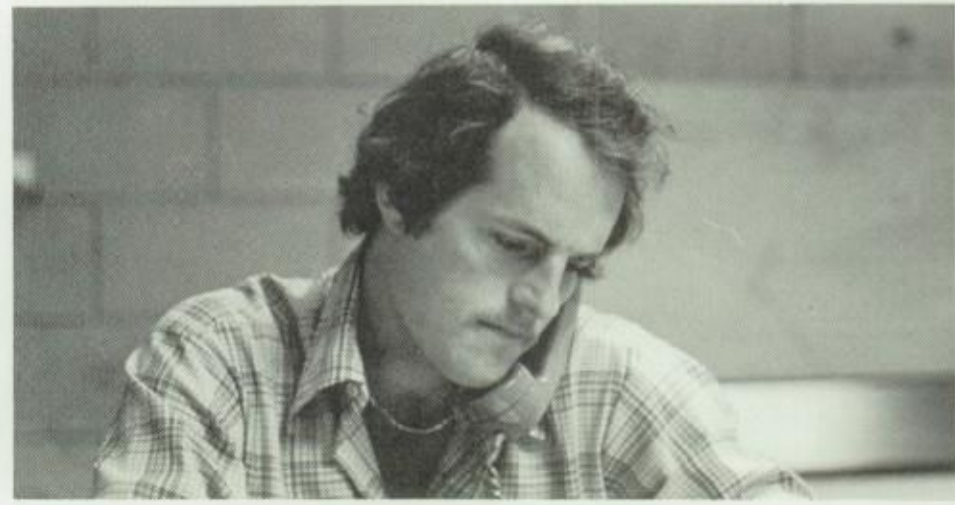

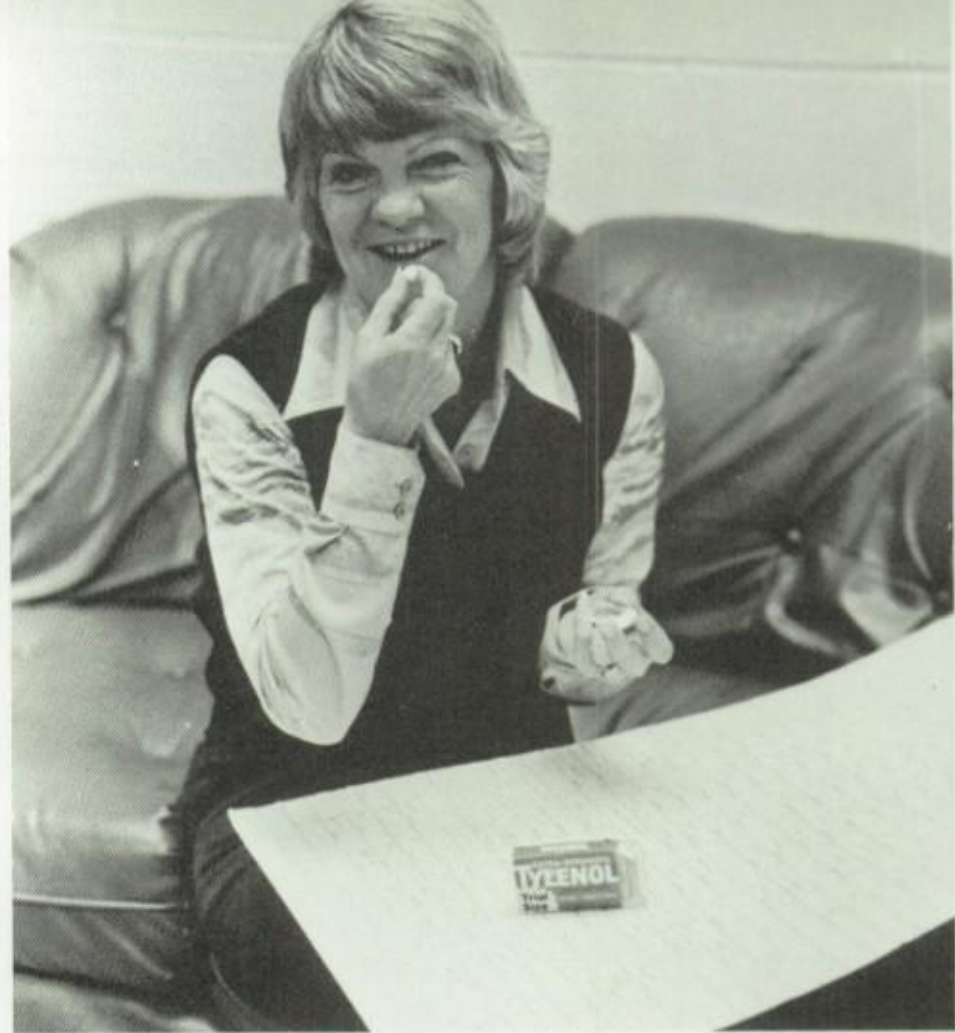

Mr. Everett Simmons

The Guiding Light

John Warlick, a new addition to the guidance office, helps Mrs. Simmons with her routine work. One of their important goals while serving as guidance counselors is helping students prepare themselves for their future needs.

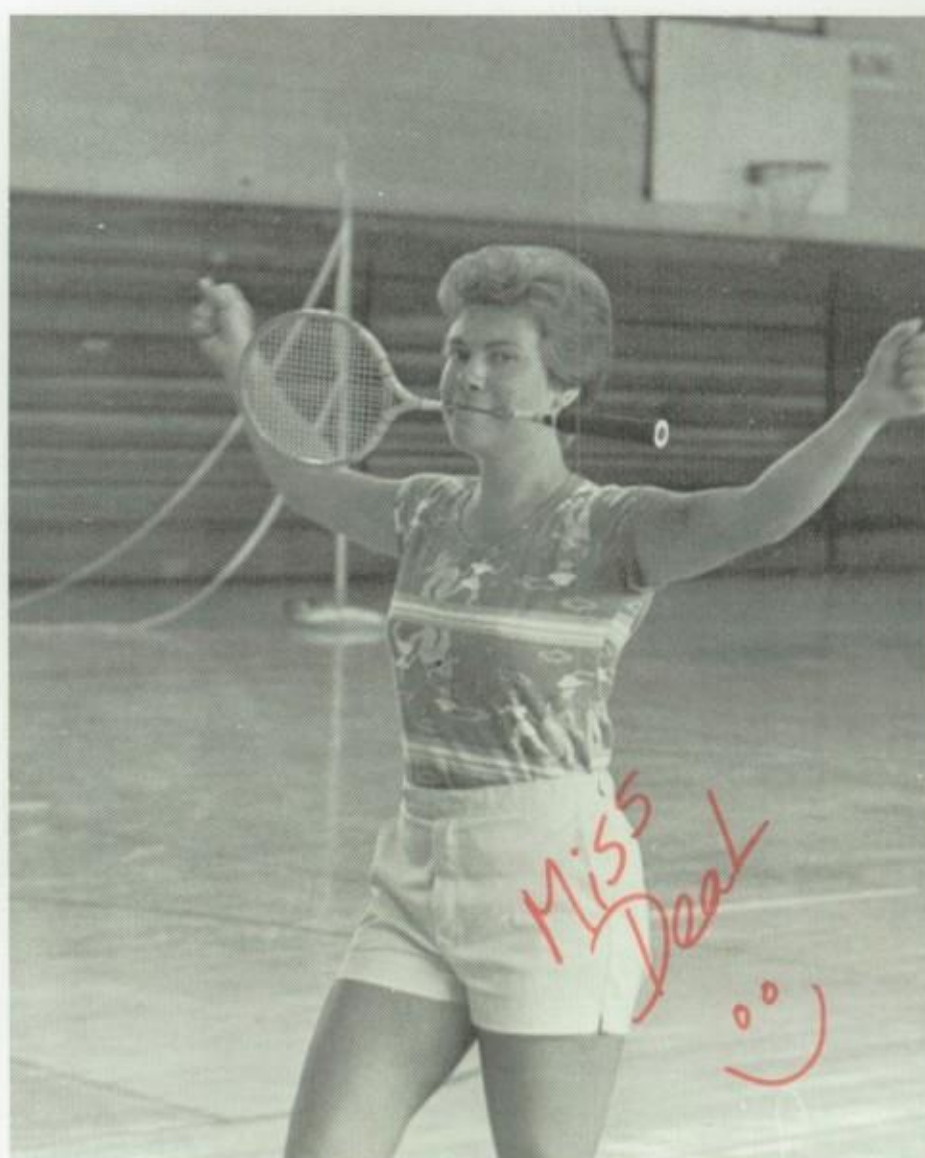

Silence Is Golden

The Media Center at N.C.H.S. enriches the curriculum by providing a wide variety of materials for reading and research. Miss Gillis aids both students and teachers in locating needed sources. As part of her busy schedule, Miss Gillis previews new material for the Media Center. Mrs. Heavner is responsible for keeping order in the study hall classes for those students who have five academic classes and choose to have a free period.

Dedication and Perspiration

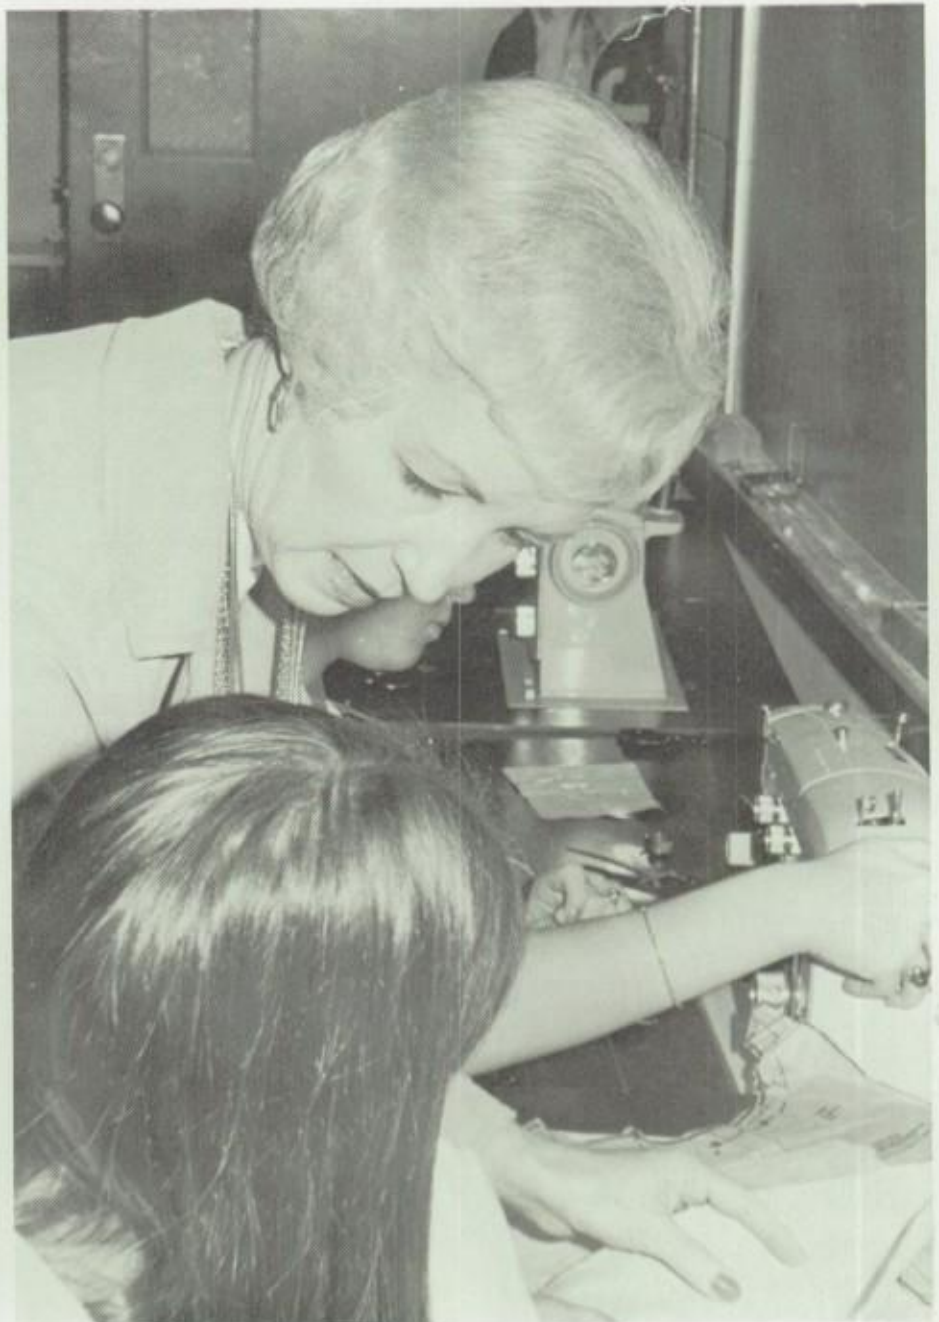

The Physical Education program at N.C.H.S. has initiated several programs in an attempt to better satisfy the students' tastes and to meet their present and future needs. There are specialized classes for both boys and girls in tennis, softball, football, volleyball, gymnastics, and archery. An advanced P.E. course is offered for preparatory career needs.

Southern Living

Both males and females experienced the techniques and secrets of homemaking in the Home Economics classes. Cooking and sewing were not the only skills learned during the year. Other aspects of homemaking included housing and home furnishings, grooming and personal experience, child development, and family relations. Students also enjoyed the craft of Macrame. Valuable learning experiences were offered by Mrs. Jackson and her assistant, Mrs. Woodfin.

Talent On Parade

The Fine Arts department at N.C.H.S. offers students the chance to express their talents and to provide entertainment for the students as well as for the community. Through the Arts, the students find ways to express their feelings, and this department provides an outlet for students' creativity.

The Foreign Language department, which offers courses in French and Spanish, strives to develop competency of students in these languages and to equip them with a practical knowledge of the linguistic, grammatical, and cultural aspects of the languages. The curriculum includes those courses and activities which will effectively meet the needs of and create greater interest among students in our school today.

"It sure wudn't easy, but they larnt us a lot."

It is a great advantage that the English courses at NCHS are so varied, for they are the only courses a student here is required to have each and every year in order to graduate. Another favorable point for the English department is its hardworking teachers who strive to make their subject more interesting; truly it is one of the best departments in the school. NCHS students did suffer the loss of Mrs. Susan Litchford earlier this year, but we have gained a very qualified substitute, Mrs. Mullinax.

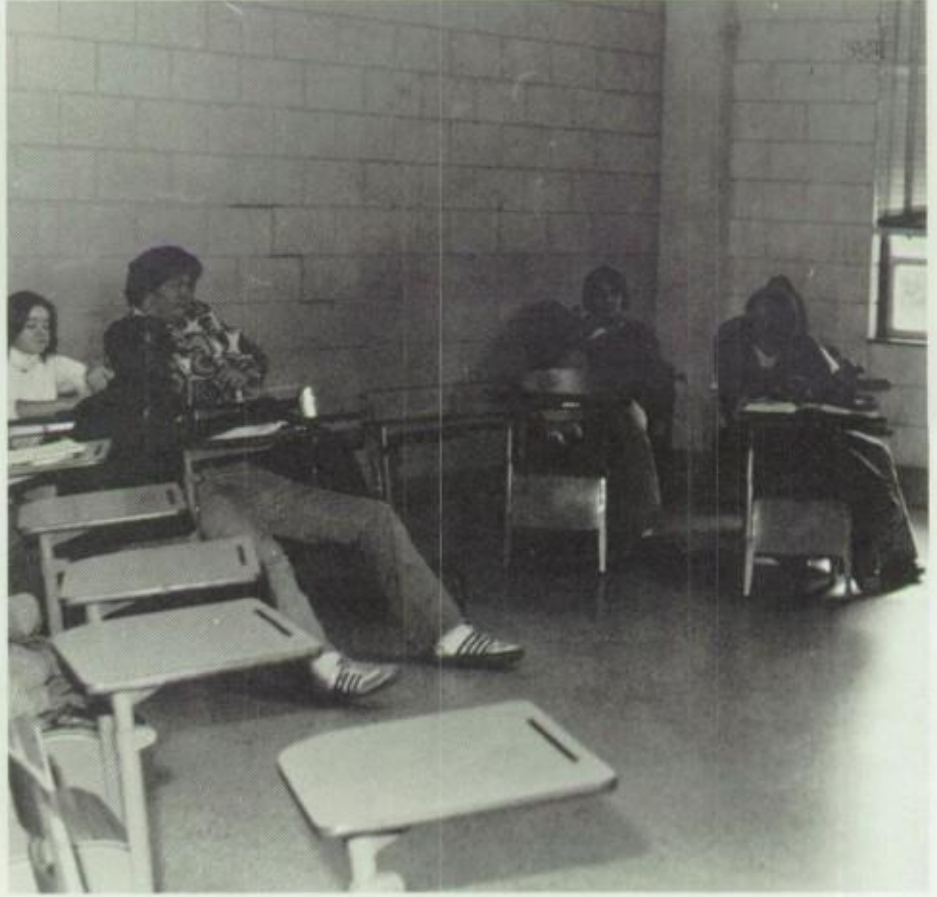

Reading, 'Riting, and Remembering . . . three important skills that these English teachers seek to instill in their students. Those interested in reading materials on any topic — fiction or nonfiction — from 1984 to One Day In the Life of Ivan Denisovich, from all across the world and from every era, may select from the various literature courses. Memories are stretched and vocabularies strengthened in a special course called "Say What You Mean," and writing skills are polished in Advanced Composition, Creative Writing, and Basic English. Creativity is also needed in another English course, Drama Production. So it seems that NCHS has gone back to the basic three . . . Reading, 'Riting, and Remembering.

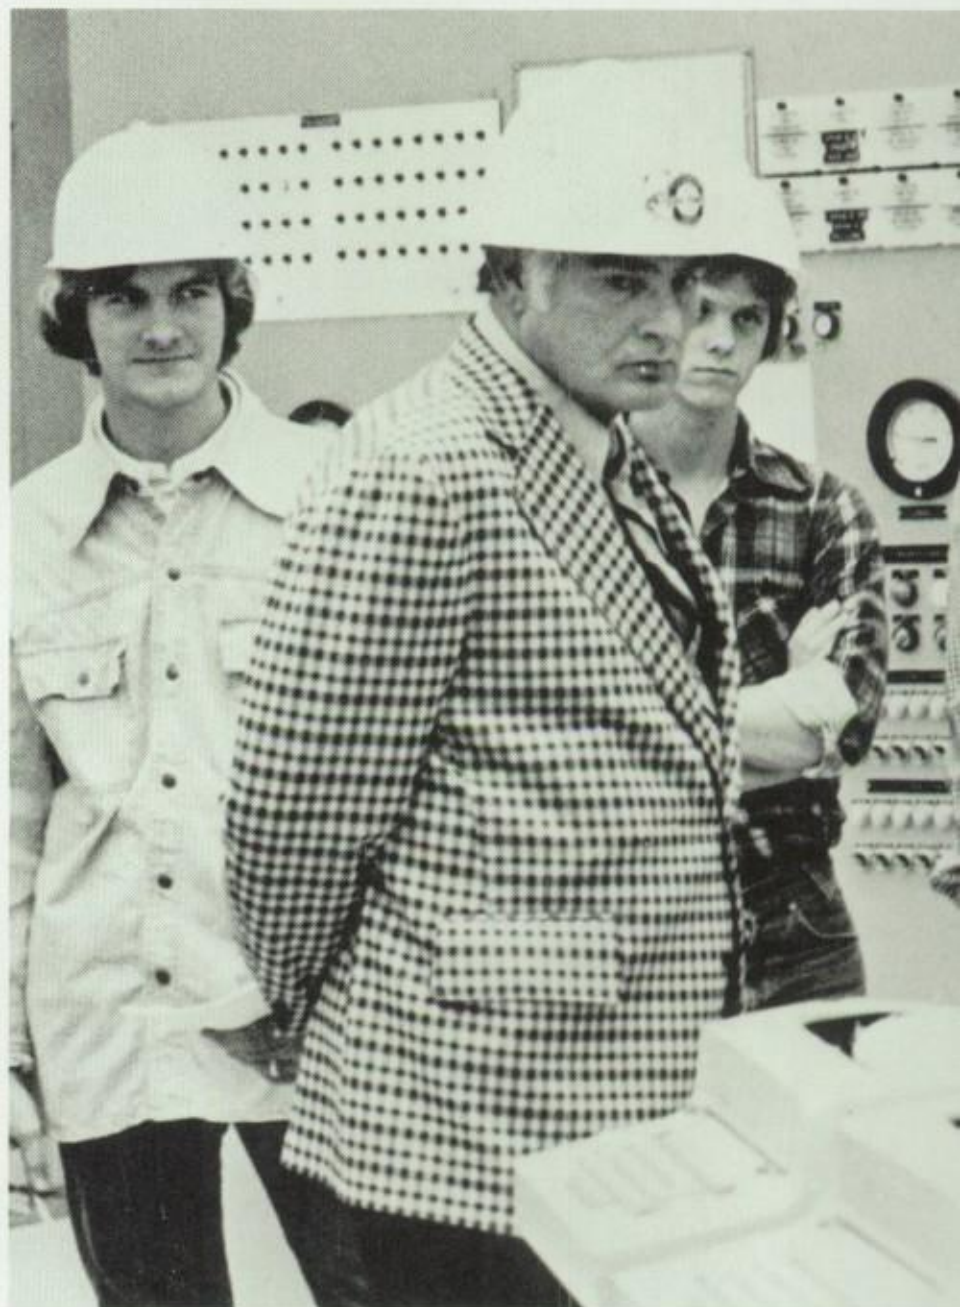

The Search For Yesteryear . . . Today

The History department aims at providing students with learning experiences which will enable them to gain the knowledge, skills, values, and attitudes necessary for becoming effective participants in a democratic society. We offer many courses concerning all aspects of History — the past, the present, and the future. These classes provoke students to search for possible solutions to the problems of the world.

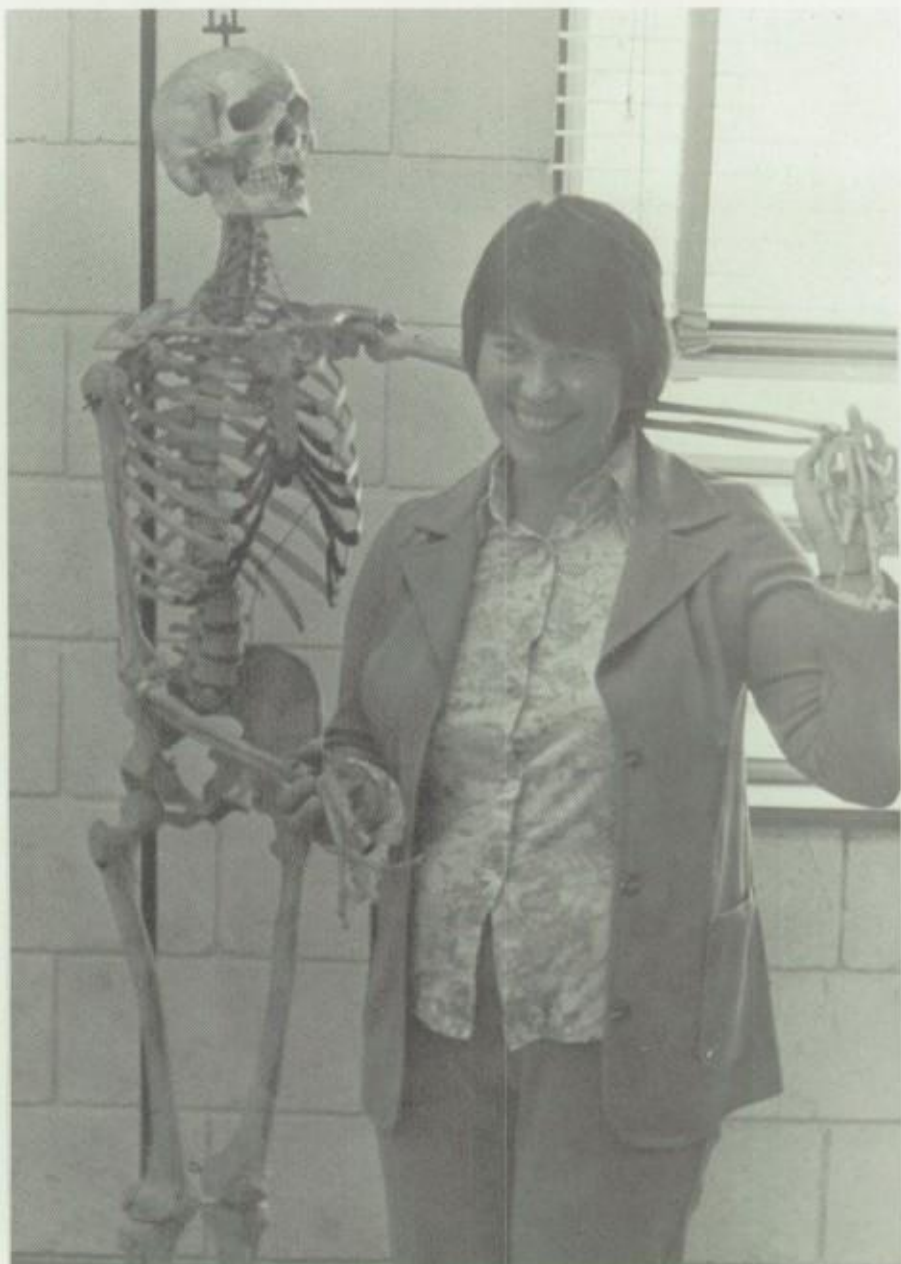

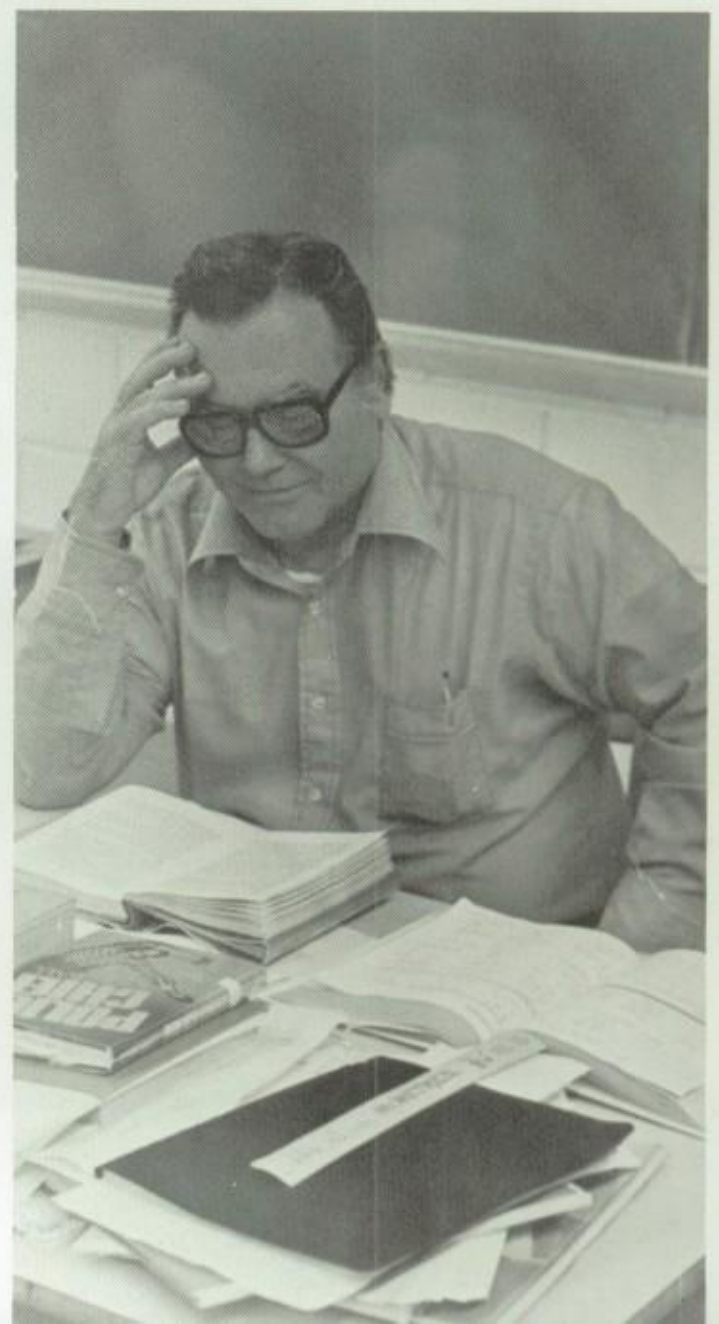

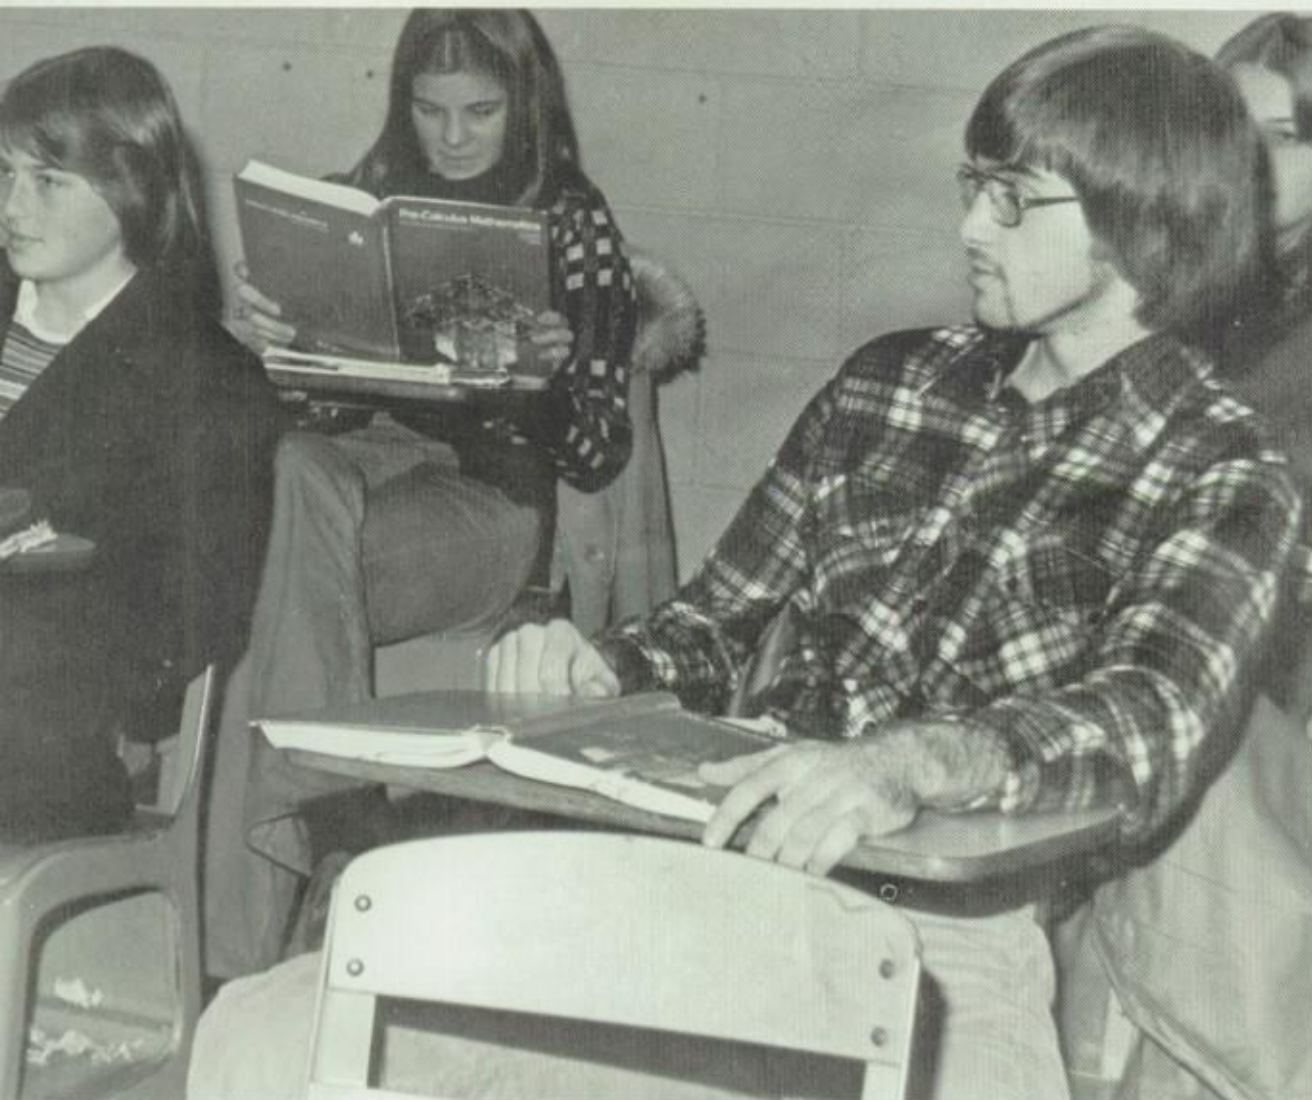

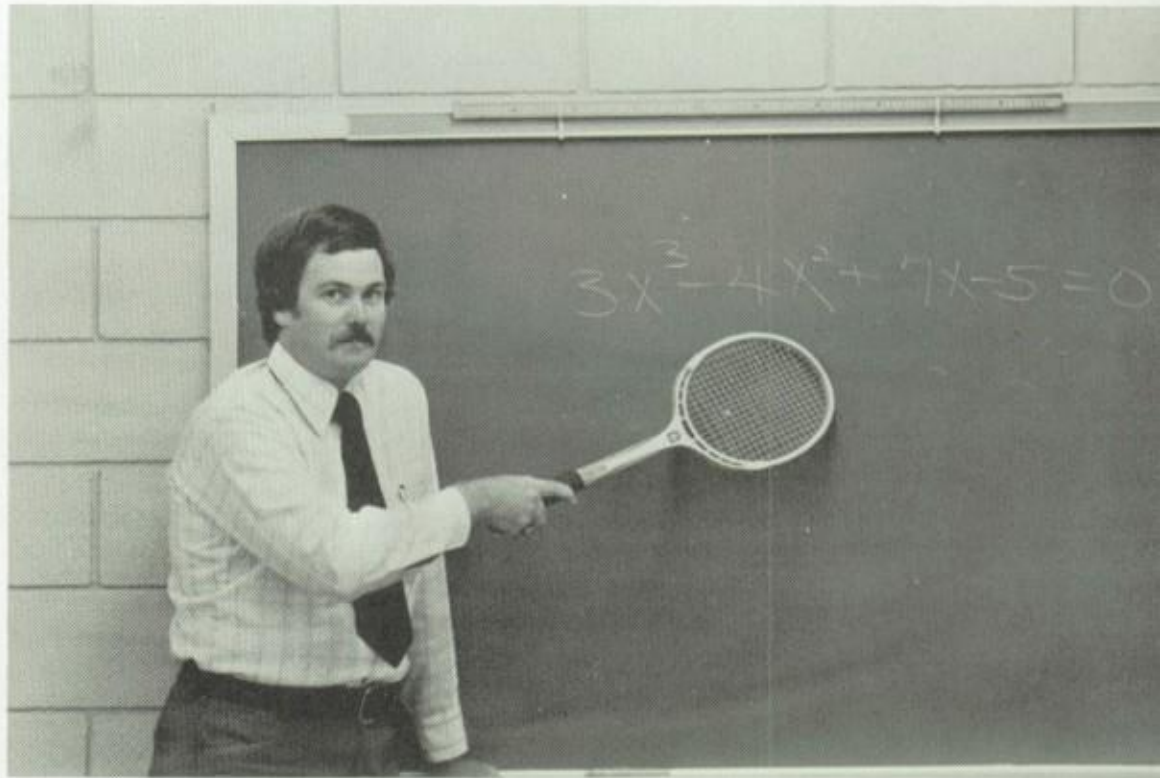

The excitement of science is that it does not remain the same. It is always changing with new discoveries — some by chance, some by design. Newton-Conover's science curriculum offers classes to meet the needs of students with widely varying abilities and interests. The college-bound student is encouraged to participate in such courses as physics, B.S.C.S., and Chemistry II. There are other courses offered to provide practical knowledge which can be applied to everyday life. These courses include Biology I, Biology II, and Chemistry I.

Vocational Education involves working with students to help them determine lifetime career objectives. These students gain experience in bricklaying, mechanical drawing, carpentry, and construction industry. They apply what they learn in classwork and practice their trade for future occupations. Upon walking into the football stadium or the gymnasium, one could see a group of ten girls getting ready to lead the fans in cheers and raise their spirits for the upcoming game. Whether in the freezing weather or heated gym made no difference; the girls were enthusiastic. One of the best squads ever at N.C.H.S., the girls performed stunts they had learned and perfected at practice. They painted signs, gave treats, and put on skits at the many pep rallies they had for the student body. The girls even had city-wide pep rallies for the faithful fans who watched our football team go to the semifinals of the play-offs. This year's squad was just all around great. They will surely be remembered for a long time and hopefully set an example for future N.C.H.S. varsity cheerleaders.

With only seven girls, the J.V. cheerleaders were not able to do as many complicated stunts as other squads, but they still came up with some good cheers and formations to perform during J.V. ballgames. They raised the spirit of the fans as well as that of the players, with their smiling faces and their chants. They provided incentives for the teams to keep on winning and stood behind them when they were down. The J.V. cheerleaders have prepared themselves to take the job of Varsity cheerleaders. Now they're one step closer.

GIVE 'EM HELL RED!

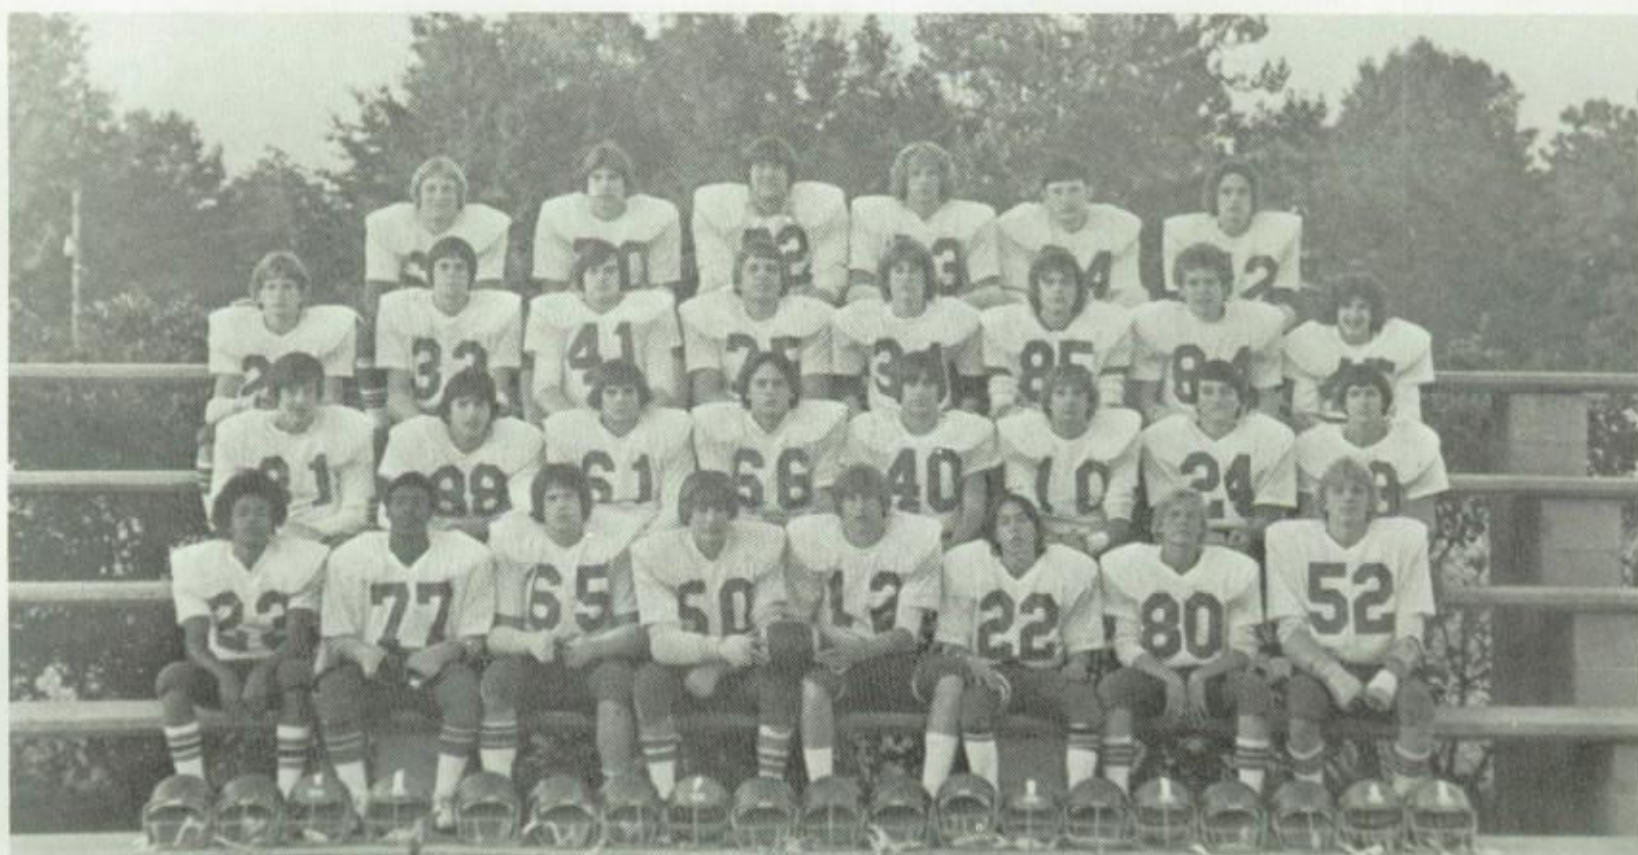

In a newly formed Northwestern Conference, the N.C.H.S. Varsity football squad was faced with tough competition. With 31 years of unsuccessful attempts to beat the old rival of Hickory, the big red machine stomped out the Tornadoes with a score of 14-7. The Devils looked as if they were to have an undefeated football season until they gave up a heartbreaking loss to Lincolnton in the last game of the regular season. This loss resulted in a 3-way tie for the conference title. By winning the bid to compete in the State playoffs, the N.C.H.S. team went on to demolish the number one ranked team in the state, Shelby, with a field goal by Richard Mosteller to make the final score 3 to zip! The next week was a turnaround with Brevard, ending the Big Red's very successful football season. Everyone is proud of the N.C.H.S. football squad for bringing much recognition to the school, as well as the community.

While everyone else thought football night was Friday, for the J.V. players, Thursday night was football time. Often, attendance was low for the J.V. games, but the guys played their best. With plenty of talent and a good coaching staff, the J.V. players fared well in the new conference. These fellows are going to be coming up to varsity next year with quite a team. They have much to look forward to because this season was only a beginning.

SHOOT...

1st row: Gigi Robinson, Louise Canrobert, Crystal Sweet, Agnes McCorkle. 2nd row: (Coach)—Gary Jarrett, Lucy Lofland, Leigh Shepherd, Leigh Ann Propst, Wadene Rhinehardt, Margaret Petree.

The Red Devilettes were plagued with missed lay-ups, low shooting percentages, and all-around misfortune, as they began their season in the new W.P.C. An early season injury forced Kelley Spears, an all conference performer last year, from returning. But the sharp-shooting of Leigh Shepherd made up for the loss, as well as the sound defensive play of Wadene Rhinehardt and Louise Canrobert. Losing several close games at the buzzer, the girls finally got some momentum and chalked up a few wins. Although their record was disappointing, the Devilettes will return with many competitive players for next year, and under the instruction of coach "J" they should fare well.

THE HOOP!

With the excitement of Red Devil football settled, the Newton-Conover fans turned their attention to the hoop sport-basketball. Coach Bobby Rowe's squad came out fighting the first game and did not stop. The fellows entered each quarter as if it was the first and capped off victories one by one. An old rival, Hickory, hindered the team's spirit when they won by narrow margins in each of their three outings. But the Red Machine still held on to a top spot in the Western Piedmont Conference. They ended their regular season in first place and were to be strong contenders in the post-season tournaments. Tyrone Grandberry entered the tourney as one of the dominant players in the W.P.C.. He should definitely be considered a college prospect, along with seniors Jimmy Matson and Craig Binkley, who contributed in scoring and controlled the boards for the Devils. Another seniors starter, Fred Shuford, was a key defensive player with his quickness and agility. The team's cohesion, between their aggressive defense and fast paced offense, made quite an impact on the new league.

JAM TIME...

Having games scheduled on the same day as the varsity games, the J.V.'s were often overlooked. But despite the low attendance and afternoon games, both teams held their own in the new conference. The girls led by Bonye Deal and Laura Canrobert had an up and down season. They deserved more wins but repeatedly didn't get the breaks. The guys found themselves in a very competitive league. Although the start of the season seemed sluggish, the fellows rallied back to a third place finish. With a tremendous amount of talent and "spunk" these roundballers will certainly be a big advantage to the varsity teams next year.

Junior Dribblers

The girls in the zebra-striped shirts were back again this year and just as powerful as ever. Faced with new opponents because of the conference change, the girls were even more anxious to prove to everyone that they were still the champs. Their new rivals were good and the champs fell victim to West Iredell twice, but they fought back and held on to top spot all through the season. With a chance to take it all, the volleyballers fell once again to an explosive St. Stephens team in the final match of the year. But the Lady Red Devils were still the champs, Tri-Champs though. Three girls, Wadene Rhinehardt, Louise Canrobert, and Leigh Ann Propst were voted All-Conference for their efforts.

BUMP, SET, SPIKE, "THAT'S THE WAY WE LIKE IT!"

A Rare Species: Birdies and Eagles!

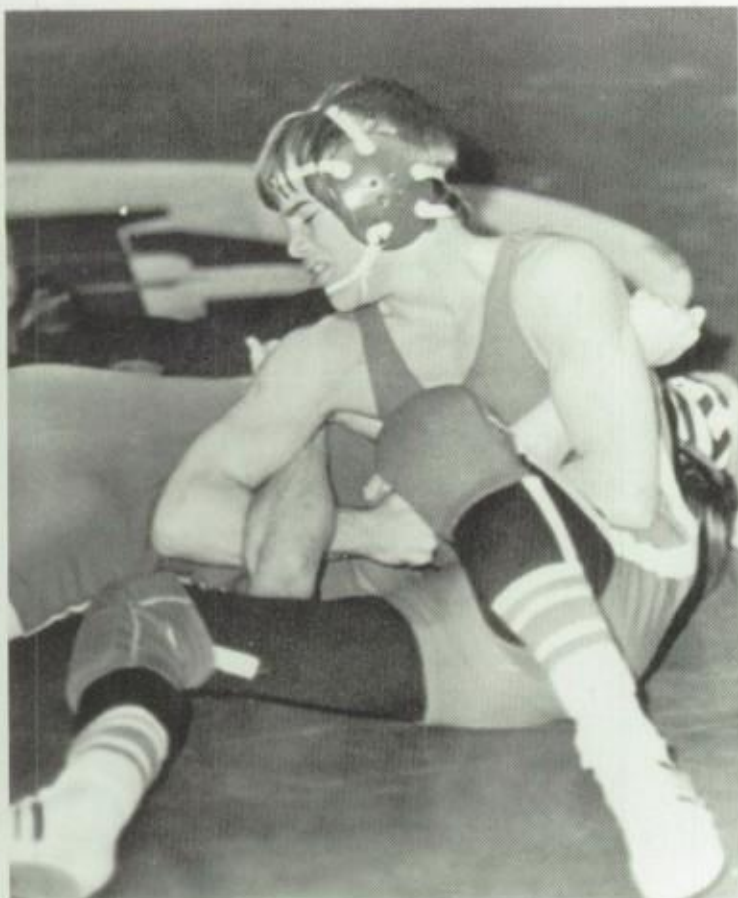

The golf team came out swinging and won the fight. The team had an undefeated season in the conference and most of their wins were by impressive margins. Led by the senior duo of Don Durant and Scott Webb, the team consistently put down their foes. The two seniors were also rewarded for their achievements by being selected All-Conference. The rest of the team will return this year with quite a record to keep up; but from their showing this past year, that task will not be hard.

A winning wrestling team has become a tradition here at N.C.H.S., but the boys will be the first to tell you it doesn't come without work and sacrifice. With long rigorous workouts, by getting down to weight, and by forfeiting Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners, these fellows truly deserve some appreciation. Under the direction of a new coach, Joey McGee, this year's team battled to a third place finish in the new Western Piedmont Conference. Ending with a 10-2 record, several N.C.H.S. wrestlers advanced to the conference and district tournaments.

On The Mat

The coming of spring inspires the runner, the jumper, and the thrower to test his ability and strength. The method in which he may test himself is Track. From the afternoons of long, exhausting practice to the actual meet, our track team was always striving to run the fastest, jump the highest, and endure the longest. Although the outcome wasn't always what they had hoped for, several individuals gained recognition for their outstanding performances. Jimmy Matson, an exceptional hurdler, advanced to the sectional meet, where he won three events and scored a total of 56 points. He and several others will be back this year hopefully to get the team off on the right foot!

Off On The Right Foot!

EVERYBODY'S

All of the sweaty warm-ups and aching bodies seemed to pay off this year for our tennis team. For the first year, we had a girls' tennis team as well as a boys' team. The girls were no less determined and proved themselves capable by tying Statesville for the conference title. Leigh Shepherd, the number one player on the boys' team last year, led the team again this year. The team lost only one match all year, to Statesville, to have an overall record of 11-1. Leigh Shepherd and Margaret Petree were named All Conference, and Shepherd went on to finish second in singles competition in the State Tournament, while the doubles team of Petree and Spears advanced to the Western Regionals before an injury prevented further advancement.

RACQUET

Undefeated and unscored on! That is the record our 1977 tennis team takes pride in! Having a 10-0 conference record, the N.C.H.S. netters completed their regular season without losing a single individual match. The team did this without the help of a thousand fans cheering and applauding or a manager continually supplying water and towels. There were no scoreboards or spirit signs in the halls or caravans to the matches. But there was something which, in this case, was much stronger than those things. Within the tennis team existed a strong determination to play and the never-ending will to win. And, boy! Did they win! Mike Mason and Eric Rose advanced to the state tournament in Chapel Hill by being finalists in the Western Regionals held in Asheville. With a 13-4 overall score, the Newton-Conover tennis season was definitely: "ADVANTAGE" — Red Devils!

Caution: Sharp Curves!

Through long hours of practice, with much determination, and with lots of laughs, the softball ladies struggled to a third place finish in the SD-7 Conference. After a slow start, the girls finally found a winning combination and racked up on the victories toward the end of the season. With many experienced players returning, the girls are looking forward to a victorious season.

Answer: The N.C.H.S. baseball team!

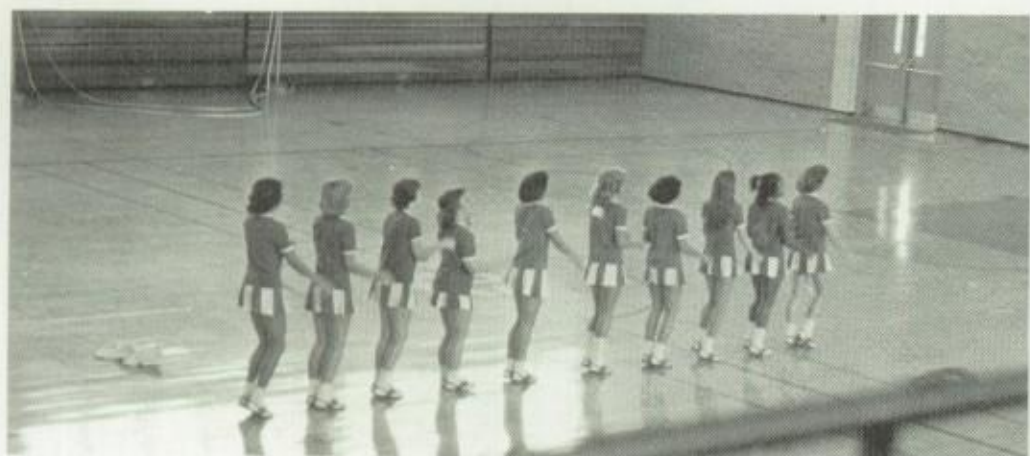

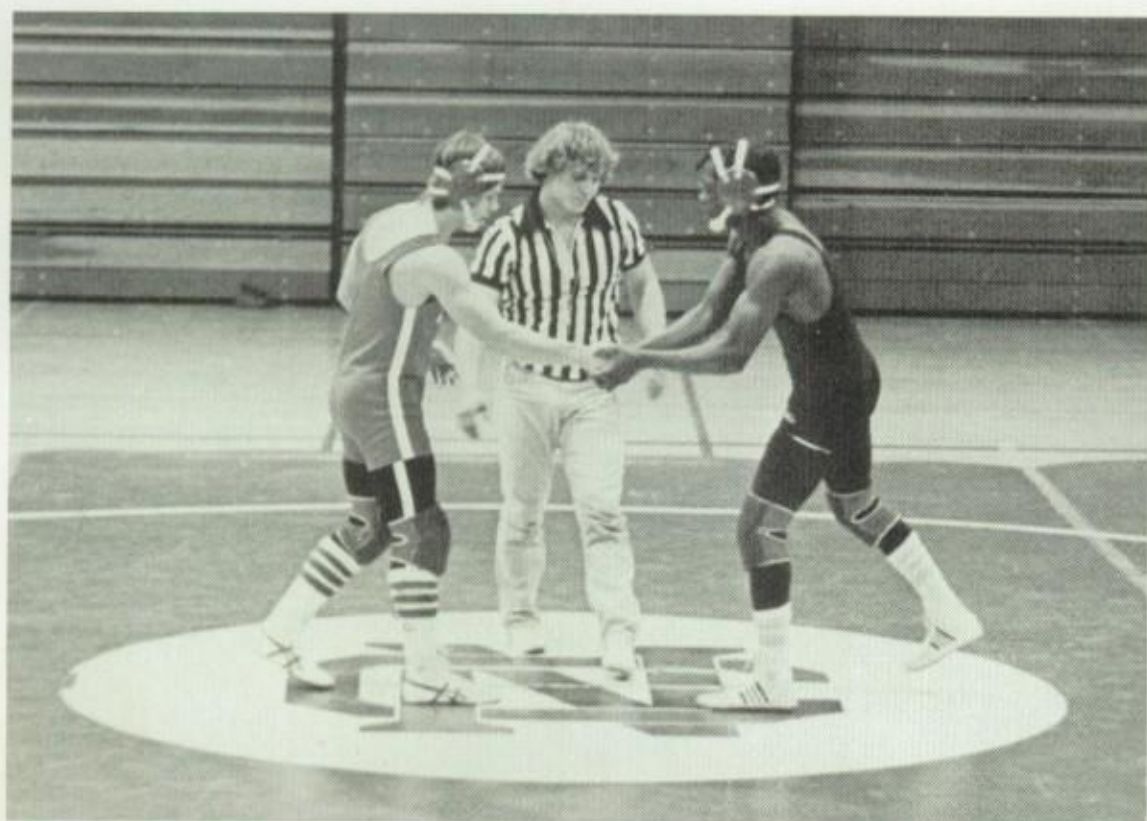

As well as fighting off the cool spring winds, the baseball team had to overcome some stiff opposition. Consisting mainly of seniors, the team put away opposing teams one at a time. Sometimes there was a struggle, but the fans were there backing them up and giving them added incentive to win. An old foe, Hickory, dampened Newton's undefeated season hopes by beating them twice. But the Red Devils still stayed at the top and finished in second place with a season record of 11-5, which was good enough to place them into the play-offs. After beating Fred T. Foard, the Red Devils were beaten by St. Stephens to end their very successful season.

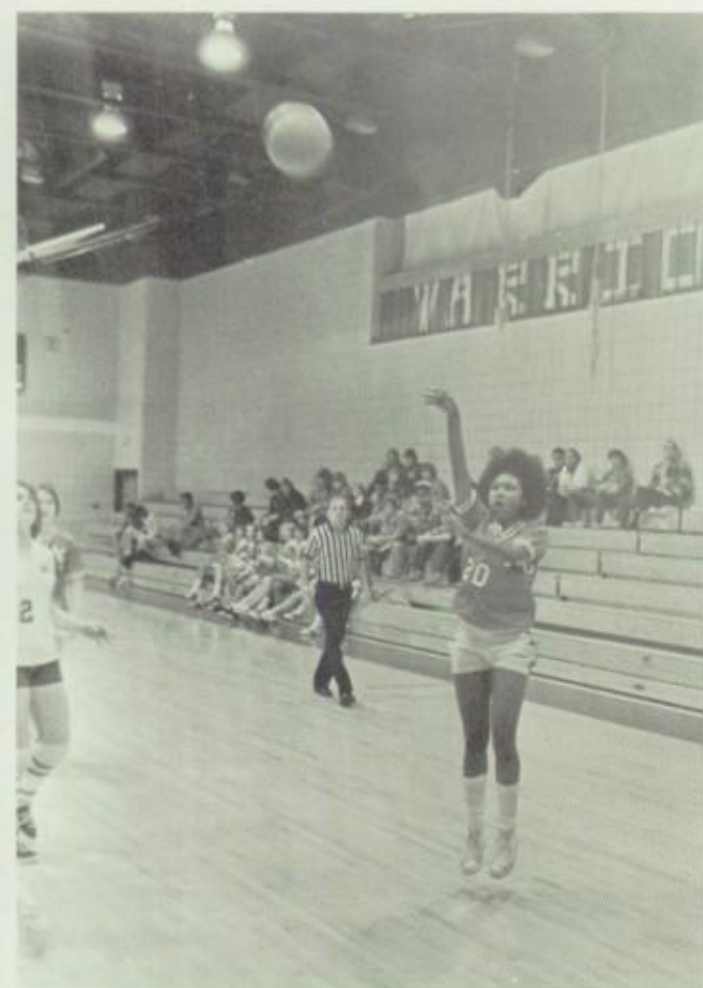

QUESTION: WHAT HAS EIGHTEEN LEGS AND CATCHES FLIES?

Once again, the stage band did an excellent job of performing their tasks. After try-outs, the members of the group began practicing once a week for their performances. The stage band soon became familiar with their musical selections. This group entertains at many dances, including the annual New Year's Dance. They also performed at band concerts. The stage band worked very hard this year to provide entertainment for others.

After try-outs last spring, this year's majorettes discovered just what their titles meant. Being a majorette meant long, hot hours of practice — beginning the week after try-outs. During the summer, while everyone else was at the beach, Andrea Reitzel and "her girls" were busy learning basic routines for the coming football season. When they were not at practice, the majorettes could be found having uniforms fitted and capes made. After school started, all of the long hours of work finally came together — at half time and during competition. Being a majorette still meant coping with the butterflies in their stomachs before a performance and worrying about making mistakes in front of family and friends, but Andrea and "her girls" performed admirably throughout the season.

Merry Music Makers

"One, two—one, two, three, four." The familiar count is shouted out. The band blares forth with some memorable tunes during breaks in the action of basketball games. Just who are these musicians? They are the NCHS Pep Band, a group of volunteer band members who give up their Tuesday and Friday nights to provide entertainment for the spectators of basketball games. These students arrive early at the gym — armed with instruments, spirit, and homework. The instruments are of course for playing. The spirit is to help the cheerleaders support the team. And the homework is for the teachers because with all the added practices and performances little time is left for homework. Yet the pep band manages to get everything done — down to the task of playing after hearing "One, two — one, two, three, four."

Pike, Point, Pivot, "Pick Up Those Knees"

The 1977-78 NCHS Flag Team proved to be real crowd pleasers this year. Their precision drill added extra color and excitement to half time performances. Members of the flag team practiced every day with the band and often held extra practices, where under the direction of commander Melinda Kaylor and advisor John Holland, the girls learned new routines. Then these drills were practiced over and over until they were perfected. Before a performance at half time, the flag team marched out on the field with their heads held high. Then it was time to twirl, dosey-do, pivot, and "pick up those knees." And the crowd loved them. Knowing that the job was well done, the flag team once again retired to the practice field — to learn next week's routines.

Sing It To The World

CHORUS: 1st row: Debbie Kurt, Sundee Setzer, Lynn Litton, Jeanne Guthrie, Karen Deal, Alisa Jones, Linda Curtis, Scarlett White, Kim Wooten, Beth Clore, Lori Waddell, Susan Bollinger, Candy Arnold, Donna Adams 2nd row: Dorcas Baker, Jenene Bruner, Kim Moore, Sharon Hartsoe, Kim Peoples, Angela McCorkle, Lee Ann Holsclaw, Libby Russell, Beverly Bogart, Nellie Lane, Donna Crawford, Sandra White, Frances Coulter 3rd row: Gary Wilson, Gary Hicks, Doug Tyson, James Elliot, Cleve Zahner, Franklin Reinhardt, Todd Lewis, Josh Bogart, Chuck Bolick, Don Kiser, Ricky Clarke 4th row: Ronnie Fisher, Arthur Dunn, Greg Madden, David Corvin, Ricky Wagner, Mike Self, Mike Roberts, William Holsclaw, Mike Welch, Michael Grant, Gary Styers

This year's chorus set out with a bright outlook. Now that the third and fourth period classes were combined, the chorus practiced together all the time. Before, extra night practices had to be held in preparation for the concerts. In addition to a new sound, the chorus also had a new look. White shirts were worn with black pants or skirts. Blazers were also purchased to complement the outfit. At Christmas, the chorus went caroling, much to the delight of their audiences. In the spring, they held their annual concert. And with the success of Lil' Abner lingering in the background, the chorus performed Oklahoma as their major production.

The Main Situation, a small chorus ensemble, regrouped this year. This group performed at the chorus concerts. They also provided the entertainment for various meetings.

They're On Their Toes

This year's dance team, under the direction of Miss Deal, proved to be a success. The girls prepared for their performances by attending various workshops held at Lenoir Rhyne College and Wake Forest University. They also went to recitals and dance oriented programs. Then using what they had learned and observed, the dance team began practicing for the coming season. Throughout the basketball season, the dance team performed admirably during the halftimes of home games. To finish the year, the dance team provided the entertainment for the NCAE banquet.

In The Spotlight

The Entertainment Company, in its second year of existence, was advised once again by Julia Clore. With the success of last year's plays, They're Wrong Right? and Harvey, lingering in their minds, the members of the Entertainment Company strove to do as well this year. Practices started back in November and December for this year's productions. The Entertainment Company performed a one-act drama in the spring. Later, they held their major production, Look Who's Laughing, a three-act comedy. The members of the Entertainment Company were dedicated, hard-working individuals who were truly interested in drama and its future.

The Varsity Club also paid half the price of letter jackets. Members of the Varsity Club were entertained at the Fall Sports Banquet and at the Spring Sports Banquet.

The People's Choice

The members of the Student Government worked hard to provide the student body with a memorable year. They attended the NCASC workshop at Mars Hill to help prepare for the coming year. Student Government members also attended the state NCASC convention at Durham High School. At Homecoming, they sponsored a carnation sale. For the last home game, the Student Government made a spirit chain using the nickels turned in by students. At Christmas, they once again held a door contest. During the spring, the Student Government sponsored an Almost Anything Goes Game Day. They also held a Hoedown or Square Dance. Members of the Student Government planned to rewrite the school constitution. They hosted a brunch for Teacher Appreciation Day. In the summer, the NCHS Student Government will attend the National Convention in Texas.

The Interactivity Council is composed of the presidents of all the clubs. This group is headed by the student body Vice-President, William Holsclaw. The Interactivity Council members must hand in a full report on their clubs. From these reports, it is determined whether or not the club is allowed to continue. The members of the Interactivity Council have a great responsibility and do a wonderful job handling it.

Shake Hands With The World

The American Field Service Club began its projects earlier than usual this year. Under the direction of Jan Bohler, teams were formed and captains chosen. Each team was given a different task to do for the AFS weekend. With all that help, the weekend could not possibly fail; in fact, it was a huge success. Club members hosted foreign exchange students for the weekend. Parties, dances, and even a football game kept everyone busy. On Monday, the foreign exchange students came to school for an assembly, where Reinaldo Antonio from Brazil delighted the student body with his performance on the guitar. The AFS Club also gave our own foreign exchange student from South Africa, Sheena Voss, a surprise party for her birthday. Later in the year, the club sponsored the Mr. NCHS pageant, where boys dressed up as girls to compete for the title.

This year, the Interact Club became involved in a wide range of service projects. At one end of the scale was the task of picking up rocks at the Middle Grade School for money. Counterbalancing that was the practice of sending two seniors to the Rotary Club luncheons. In between the two were such projects as raking leaves and cleaning up the stadium after home games. The Interact Club also made booster buttons for sale to the student body. Another of its activities was to sponsor a dinner-swim party at the YMCA during January. Each of these activities benefited club members, the school, and the community.

The Junior Civitan Club kept its members busy this year. The club members sponsored the selection of the Carrousel Princess and a Bike-a-thon. At Halloween, club members, costumed and bearing refreshments, went to Newton Elementary School to give the children a party. In December, the club went to the retirement home and entertained the residents with Christmas caroling. Another task this year was to sponsor a child from the Western Carolina Center. The Junior Civitan Club also recognized the parents of the basketball players at an important home game. Members of the club took turns visiting the Senior Civitans at their meetings. Toward the end of the year, the Junior Civitan Club sponsored and organized the Miss NCHS pageant. Then to finish the year, the club gave a scholarship to a deserving senior during the Awards Assembly.

The French Club is composed of the members of the French classes. The club promotes the use of the French language and the study of French people, customs, and their country. At their regular meetings, the club hosted speakers. They also held cheese-tasting parties and fondue parties. The French Club enjoyed experiencing French customs during their meetings. Then to end the year, the club went to Lenoir Rhyne College for Foreign Language Day.

Faraway Places . . . Familiar Faces

The Spanish Club consisted of sixty-four members this year. The club was formed to give its members a better understanding of Spanish-speaking people and countries. At their regular meetings, the club had many speakers who reported on Spanish cultures. As their main project, they hoped to go to Spain in the summer. The club also purchased a cassette recorder for the Spanish Department. In December, club members gathered at Jan Bohler's house for a Christmas party. The Spanish Club was also involved in the ACTION program. At the end of the year, the Spanish Club presented a scholarship to a deserving senior.

Publishing a newspaper is hard work, as the members of the Devilier Staff soon discovered. There were pictures to be taken, and copy to be written. Then the pictures had to be cropped and the copy typed. Staff members had to finance the paper and that meant selling ads. Deadlines had to be met. Finally, after all that hard work, The Devilier was ready for distribution. The Devilier Staff should be proud because they published excellent newspapers all year.

The D.J.'s With Something To Say

The Radio Staff this year changed greatly since last year. This year the show went back to a live performance with news, sports, and special features. The previously used skits were replaced in this year's shows by the Special Features edited by Shuford Abernathy. The editor of the entire staff, Larry Hipps, did an excellent job of keeping the staff together. Once again they presented the news, edited by Danny Ledford. They also created a new office on the staff, mascot. This job was held by Janet Prestwood. All in all, the shows ran very smoothly with few complaints.

The Future Homemakers of America were kept busy all year with their many activities. Through these activities, the club members helped to develop the skills necessary to smoothly run a household. In November, they made various crafts and held a bazaar. With the proceeds from the sale, the club members went out to dinner. Later in January, the FHA gave a party at the retirement home, much to the delight of the residents. During the next month, club members again practiced being hostesses by giving the children at Newton Elementary School a party. In March, the FHA members showed their sewing skills in a fashion show. But the project of the FHA Club was providing refreshments for the teachers every six weeks. All in all, the FHA proved to be an industrious club with much to offer to the students and faculty of NCHS.

Through its projects, the Future Teachers of America provided assistance to both students and teachers. In October, the FTA completed its most important project of the year — Homecoming. They worked hard to organize the activities connected with this important autumn event. Some of these included the rehearsals for the half time activities, the voting for the queen during homeroom, and the task of maintaining the throne. All of the club's hard work paid off when the Homecoming festivities ran smoothly. Another project the FTA completed was to provide teachers with refreshments and to decorate the lounge at Christmas. The FTA Club was also in charge of Teacher Appreciation Week at the end of the year. They held elections for teacher superlatives during this time and tried to make the week an enjoyable one for the teachers.

The FBLA Club members involved themselves in many activities this year. At their meetings, the club hosted many speakers. To raise money, club members held bake sales and yard sales. At Christmas, the FBLA Club went caroling. Throughout the year, the club sent members to typing contests. Club members also toured the IBM Company. Later, the FBLA Club held a hayride and cookout for the handicapped children in Conover. To end the year, the club sponsored the annual Bosses' Banquet to honor the employers of the club members.

A Firm Foundation

The Trade VICA Club consisted of the members of the bricklaying classes. Its members kept busy doing many activities to benefit others. The club worked on projects at the school for handicapped children in Conover and at the Catawba County Museum. At the club meetings, speakers entertained the members. The Trade VICA Club also presented gift certificates at Christmas to members of the office staff. As an added treat, the club members went out to eat once every six weeks. The Trade VICA Club proved to be a very enterprising club this year.

The Driving Force

Neither rain nor snow nor darkness of morning shall stay the NCHS Bus Drivers from their daily routes. Early every school morning, they can be found picking up sleepy-eyed children to take them to school. And after the three o'clock bell, they have to make sure everyone arrives home safely. Bus drivers have other duties which are not so well known. Some of these include checking mileage, checking engines, and filling out monthly reports. The driving force behind these dedicated individuals is Mr. Simmons, who also serves as their homeroom teacher and friend.

BUS DRIVERS: Winford Reinhardt, Tyrone Grandberry, Robby Reitzel, James Derrick, Charles Fletcher, Danny Ledford, Doug Slama, John Derrick, Jeff Sherrill, Butch Fraley, Ricky Wagner, Pete Minton, Nancy Brockhoff Not Pictured: Michael Self, Alex Price, Nelson Gurganious

The VICA Club is composed of the students in the ICT Program. The members of this club strive to learn about the business, work-a-day world. They accomplish this goal by leaving school early to work on various jobs. The members of the VICA Club are supervised while at work, and a report is given to the school concerning the quality of their work. VICA Club members enjoyed learning by experience as the school year progressed.

SAD, SASSY, SENSATIONAL SENIORS OF '78

The coming of the 1977-78 school year meant many changes, including new seniors and new class officers. The student body elected three women to office: Stacey Brazee, President; Karol Ameller, Vice President; and Melinda Kaylor, Secretary-Treasurer. Thanks for making our last year our best ever!

THE TWILIGHT ZONE

105 N College Ave.
Newton, N.C.

The sun has set on another school year—a sunset so brilliant that it will remain in our memories until eternity. Words, however, can not describe the splendor of a sunset just as they alone can not capture the events of a school year. But words are not always necessary when “Every Picture Tells a Story.”

Paula Kale: Advisor

During one of our desperate moments with half of the school year completed and only one fourth of the annual completed, our staff considered changing the theme of our yearbook from "Every Picture Tells a Story" to "If it could go wrong, it did." It seemed that from the moment we were chosen as the next Cardinal staff to the moment of relief when the final page was mailed into the publisher, everything that could possibly happen to make our job harder occurred. The week-long summer workshop that all other staffs in the past attended to gain the valuable knowledge necessary to begin work on the book, was held in the spring before our staff had even been selected. We instead attended a three hour crash course in mid-September. Mrs. Cline, who had advised the annual staff for seventeen years and knew exactly what had to be done and how, retired last year. The list continues indefinitely. But instead of giving in and letting these numerous obstacles stand in our way, we put forth twice the effort and through hard work and cooperative participation overcame the handicaps. And it wasn't just us staff members who conquered these drawbacks. Mrs. Kale, as our advisor for her first year, met the challenge head on and did more than her share to assist us on matters of every kind.

So, by eliminating any traces that we had run into so many problems with this yearbook, our new idea was of course abandoned almost as soon as it was mentioned. Our theme remained as first decided, "Every Picture Tells a Story," an appropriate one; for this is your book of pictures—pictures which capture the events of one year and blend together to form a story of special meaning to us all.

To a sweet person who I hope to see next year, and who I will always remember. Stay cool, stay sweet, and stay pretty.

Love Keith

Alisa,
Man! What a year this has been! and you sure made it fun in English and at lunch!
You're a real sweet girl
so just stay that way.
Good luck in the future
(and with all those boys)

Alisa,

It's been a big thrill being in Big P.E. with you. I know that we'll always remember this year with joy in our hearts. We'll remember all the good times, especially "wrestling" and "paddle tennis". I'll remember the black eye where your knee and my eye met for the first time and I'll remember your fantastic serve which deflated my bosom. I hope that you'll remember basketball when I got back at you for my black eye. Remember when we would treat Jennie and Cindy like something from Mars! We've had such a good time. Like running errands for Mrs. Deal and taking notes to that "hunk" McGee! I've also learned a lot from you, such as how to do bad in tennis, how to miss the ball in softball, how to break my glasses in basketball and how to fall on the trampoline. One of these days, I'll be able to make my kids go into hysterics by telling them about you, they'll ask me why I hung around you if you were "weird" and I'll have to tell them that it was out of the goodness of my heart. (Just joking). Of course we won't always be this close (keep your distance) but we will always be friends. (You won't be able to help yourself). I'll always have fond memories of P.E. and you and the good times we've had. I had better stop now before I get too sentimental and start crying. (Ha! Ha!) I wish you the best of luck and I hope you are happy the rest of your life. May you marry a fantastic guy and have lots of kids that no one will like but you and your husband (joke).

Best Wishes

Alisa,

I have really enjoyed getting to know you this year. We had a lot of fun. I will always remember this year. Opening Ms. Deal's homeroom, running errands, picking with Cindy, and watching the scenery (Ms. Lee & Warlick). We really enjoyed the scenery didn't we. I hope next year will be as fun. With all of us together it should be, if we don't drive the teachers crazy first. Since we know we have the same classes I know I'll see you next year (how unfortunate for me) just kidding. Good luck and best wishes.

P.S. Let's hope ~~we~~ we don't get Boyd next year!
(Sorry about the mess my stupid pen ran out)

watch that fool!

Good Luck
with it!

Alisa,
 I'm glad we got to be in at least 1 class together in this year. I hope we can be in some classes together next year and the fashion show? I'm glad we don't have to go through that again!
 Hope to see you this summer.
 Good Luck
 Always!
 Love,
 Maureen

Alisa,
 It's been great having you in some of my classes. You a nice girl. Stay that way.

Alisa,
 thank for being a friend.
 you seem to be a very sweet girl. Stay that way. I hope we can be in the future.
 friends in the future.
 stay out of trouble and stay cool.

Hey
I'm writing in another year book well I reckon
I'll get writers cramps
It's been a heck of a year stay sweet and voice like the bird you are a crow.
sincerely yours

I was just sitting here in the truck think about you and that I was going to come over Sunday. But I just didn't make, I have to keep my eyes on the road to the future and keep my ears open to hear some little girl that a like alot, but I can see her at work and at the summer when school I wish you were as old as I am because I think we could do alot of thing. But I know how it is you have to grow up first and I know that. One day when you are not doing ~~any~~ anything I will come over and we will go out. That night when we went out I could not think of anything to say but when you got closer to me I could feel thing happening to me and now I like to say that

Happiness is fine,
Love is great.
But what it comes to
That you are mine!

I don't have much more to say so I'll just keep it cool and put my feet to the ground. Keep on going til some girl comes Around. So I give to you all my wishes and my problems.
Stay in school and make good grades keep up the hard work.
See you soon.

your forever

Love you.

So: you'
through thick and thin
But, mostly I know
end, I glad to know that you are my friend.
It has been a pleasure knowing you and having you for my best friend.

Your crazy friend.

I like you as a friend. But I don't know if I like you that much. Just kidding

Alicia,
You are truly a great friend. Do you want to fail Biology so we can go through another great year like this one again? This year has really been great except for 3rd period.
I only ask of one thing for you that is you take me a ride in that jeep of yours. Good luck in the future. Hope to see ya around kid.
